

HST Bars 'Dragnet' Grappling For Evidence Of Corruption

Refuses House Probe Access To Records

Washington (AP) — President Truman yesterday barred any "dragnet" grappling for evidence of corruption in Federal agencies.

And he accused some senators of trying to hold onto "political patronage" plums at the expense of his plan to revamp the scandal-ridden Internal Revenue bureau.

Just before departing for a vacation at Key West, Fla., the President fired two letters to Capitol Hill in which

1.—Disclosed he had ordered all government agencies to refuse a House subcommittee's request for data on cases they have sent to the Justice department for prosecution. The subcommittee has opened an investigation into the Justice department, which has been charged among other things with laxity in pushing prosecutions of tax violators. Attorney General McGrath has already refused to supply a long list of data demanded by the subcommittee, and Truman backed McGrath up yesterday with his blast against "dragnet" methods.

2.—Accused critics of his Internal Revenue reorganization plan of seeking to "play politics" with the nation's tax-collecting system and of being "more interested in their political patronage" than in clean government.

The reorganization plan would among other changes, abolish the system under which the jobs of collectors of internal revenue are political plums. Instead most of the tax bureau's officials would be put under civil service.

Senator George (D-Ga.), one of the leading foes of the President's plan, took the Senate floor to reply angrily to Truman late yesterday. He declared the President was trying "to remove the issue of corruption from the 1952 campaign."

George said the President, in his latest statement, "confesses that he has not been able to appoint clean, efficient and honest collectors of internal revenue."

The Georgian is author of a resolution which would reject the internal revenue reorganization plan. A vote is due next week.

Truman had scarcely left Washington when the White House disclosed his order backing McGrath's shutdown on information sought by a House subcommittee headed by Rep. Shelf (D-Ky.).

The committee had requested a list of all cases over the last six years in which the Justice department had either failed to prosecute, delayed action or sent the cases back to the agency which originally recommended action.

In reply, the department said Wednesday that would mean digging into half a million cases. As far as it was concerned, it turned down the request with a tart assertion that the executive branch of government is "independent" of Congress, and said the committee was going beyond its authority.

Draft Deferment Deadline Nears

Harrisburg (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters yesterday fixed a Monday deadline for submitting application blanks by college students who seek deferment from the draft.

Henry M. Gross, State draft director, said the tests will be held April 24 at practically all colleges in the State.

Students who score 70 in the test may continue their studies subject to decisions by their local draft boards.

Talon Announces Price Slashes

Meadville (AP) — Talon, Inc., one of the world's largest manufacturers of slide fasteners, cut prices yesterday on the biggest portion of its products.

Lewis Walker, president of the firm, said the price reductions were made to improve the company's competitive position and to hold employment at a high level.

Walker said the price cuts affected various products but did not disclose specifically the amounts.

Baby Suffocates

Altoona, Pa. (AP) — Robert K. Knisely, two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knisely of East Freedom, Blair county, suffocated yesterday after becoming entangled in sheets covering his crib.

Eisenhower Rates Slight Edge In New Hampshire B-Taft Surge Closing Gap

(By the Associated Press)
Three presidential candidates and backers of a fourth stepped up further yesterday their strenuous campaigns for votes in next Tuesday's New Hampshire primary, first in the nation.

Traveling by auto, making speeches and shaking hands were Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Harold E. Stassen, Republicans, and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Democrat. Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the GOP nomination brought in two senators, Lodge of Massachusetts and Carlson of Kansas.

Eight Associated Press newspapers in the State, estimated in a late survey that Eisenhower has a slight lead but that Taft's late personal campaign had closed some of the gap. The two are contesting for the State's 14 delegates to the GOP nominating convention and are entered, along with Stassen, in the preferential poll.

Kefauver, on the Democratic ticket, is backing President Truman. The President flew yesterday from Washington to Key West, Fla., for a vacation. He may announce his political intentions on his return to the capital around March 29.

In Kansas, meanwhile, Taft backers turned back a "favorite son" movement for Eisenhower in selection of delegates from one district, the Sixth. A district convention elected two delegates pledged to Taft and recommended another delegate-at-large, who must be ratified by a State GOP convention on April 10. Kansas will have 22 delegates to the national convention. The three delegate candidates favor publicly Taft, but the district convention adopted a resolution which left them officially uninstructed.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur took himself out of the April 15 preferential primary in New Jersey, saying his name was entered without his consent. That left the names of Taft, Stassen and Eisenhower in the GOP primary there.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, who says he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination if Truman isn't, told an Omaha news conference that if he gets the nomination, he wouldn't care who his opponent was—"just so he's a Republican and just so he's the nominee." Kerr has entered the April 1 Nebraska primary against Kefauver.

Taft made his strongest direct attack in New Hampshire on Eisenhower, renewing his contention that the voters cannot know where the general stands on major issues.

City Condemns House Where Woman Lives With 40 Pets

New York (AP) — The city moved yesterday to condemn a musty old brownstone house where a strange little woman rules as mistress of a noisy tribe of 40 dogs and cats.

She is Elizabeth Moesch, 50, a plump, gray-haired retired school teacher.

Neighbors, who complained about her home, said she roams the streets of upper Manhattan in the wee hours of the morning, scrounging bones for her dogs from garbage cans.

On these nocturnal wanderings, she has an escort of four large dogs on rope leashes.

Police went to her three-story brownstone on W. 122nd St. yesterday to give her a summons, charging her with violating sanitary laws. She is to appear in court Monday.

Morris Firm Had Power To Halt Oil Deal

Washington (AP) — A New York attorney testified yesterday that a foundation headed by Newbold Morris, the government's cleanup chief, had the power to halt a subsidiary company's oil trade with Red China, but did not exercise it.

The oil shipments have come under the fire of the Senate's investigations subcommittee. Sen. Mundt (R-SD) has denounced what he called "the blood-soaked profits" made in the traffic.

Witnesses have testified the shipments began in 1949 and continued in early 1950. They ceased before the fighting began in Korea.

Under questioning before the committee yesterday, Houston H. Wasson acknowledged that the China International Foundation, Inc., could have stopped the shipments because it controlled the tankers operated by United Tanker Corp.

"If China International had said 'we are strongly opposed to making these charters,' they would not have been made," Wasson conceded.

Wasson is Morris' law partner. He testified that his law firm has received about $158,500 in fees for representing two of the shipping firms involved in the oil trade.

The committee announced that Morris will be called to testify next Tuesday. Morris has denied any impropriety and expressed a wish for an opportunity to tell his side of the story.

After listening to Wasson's testimony yesterday, Sen. Nixon (R-Calif.) commented that "the moral issue concerned is about the equal of that of international pirates."

But Wasson defended the charters, stating United agreed to transport goods for the Chinese Communists because "this country had adopted a policy of trying to wean the Chinese Communists away from Russia" by permitting trade with them.

Embezzler Given Four-Year Term

Mercer, Pa. (AP) — Arthur Upson, 50, of Sharon, who pleaded guilty of embezzling $81,000, was sentenced yesterday to four years in jail and fined $4,000.

Judge George H. Rowley also ordered Upson, father of two children, to make restitution. Upson, an auditor, admitted he took the money from the Nathan Rosenblum Co., agent for Golden Dawn Foods Co.

Nathan Rosenblum, an officer of the two companies, filed the charges against Upson less than three weeks ago after a routine check uncovered the shortage.

Rosenblum said Upson took the checks listed for tax accounts and cashed them for his own use over a four-year period.

Tokyo Shaken By Earthquakes

Tokyo, Saturday (AP) — Two earthquakes, one light and one fairly heavy, shook the area northwest of Tokyo yesterday, killing one Japanese, injuring seven, and causing damage to buildings and rail lines.

The national rural police, who reported the casualties, said 34 houses were "half-demolished" in and around Kanazawa, 200 miles northwest of Tokyo. There was a power failure at Toyama, 150 miles northwest of Tokyo, and a landslide blocked trains between Ushiya and Hosorogi.

Bible Yields $5 To Curious Hotel Guest

St. Louis (AP) — Melvin L. Renquist of Synovest, N. Y., opened a Gideon Bible in his hotel room yesterday and glanced at the fly leaf, on which are written:

"If you are troubled and discouraged, read Psalm 34, Page 625."

Although more curious than troubled, Renquist turned to the page and found a $5 bill.

After talking it over with the hotel credit manager, Renquist sent the money to his church in Synovest.

$48,000 Theft Believed Solved With Arrests

Washington (AP) — The FBI last night arrested an Army sergeant and a civilian kinsman for the $48,000 burglary of a post exchange safe at Fort Belvoir, Va., and said the Army man admitted participation.

Arrests followed the discovery by a 16-year-old Alexandria, Va., boy, Ashby Cornwall, of a large quantity of cash and two revolvers in a leather suitcase which had been hidden in a gravel pit near the military reservation.

The FBI said that Sgt. Richard Charles Klow, 33, stationed at Belvoir, admitted after being taken into custody that the suitcase and revolvers were his, and that he had staged the burglary.

Picked up with Klow was his brother-in-law, Billy Gene Mobley, 22.

Gunmen Seize $100,000 At Navy Station

Naval Air Station, Quonset Point, R.I. (AP) — Two daring bandits wearing Halloween masks and carrying short, stubby revolvers, risked gunfire from three U.S. Marine sentries and snatched $100,000 in cash yesterday from the air station credit union manager and an armed civilian guard.

The gunmen raced their green, late-model sedan through the main gate—the long entrance and exit to the huge base—at more than 50 miles an hour and almost ran down one of the Marine guards attempting to wave them to a stop.

Government funds were not involved.

It was the biggest New England robbery since the $1,219,000 Brink's armored car service hold-up in Boston on Jan. 17, 1950.

Gerald Lynch of Apponaug, R.I., credit union manager, and Thomas Smith, civilian guard, were about to carry the funds—in two cloth sacks and a brown paper bag—from their parked cars at the rear of the banking building when the bandits drove up and seized the money at gunpoint.

The bandits' car, stolen at a base parking lot from a civilian employee later was found abandoned and ablaze on Division St., East Greenwich, R.I., about five miles from the air station.

This was the second robbery in little more than a year from the credit union, which banks savings and makes loans to civilian employees at the station. In February, 1951, burglars cracked a safe in the office and escaped with $60,000.

Oil Union Agrees To Delay Strike

Denver (AP) — An oil and gas industry strike set for midnight Sunday was called off yesterday when union officials agreed to a postponement proposed by President Truman.

The threatened strike had been called by 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions in support of their demand for a wage boost and other benefits for some 250,000 workers.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO union was the last to agree to the postponement.

President Truman on Thursday referred the dispute to the Wage Stabilization board (WSB) and asked it to propose a settlement.

Undergoes Surgery

Hartford, Pa. (AP) — Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, underwent a gall bladder operation in St. Joseph hospital here yesterday. His condition was reported good.

Kennedy, a former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, became ill while vacationing in Florida last week and returned home for treatment.

Reds Increase Pressure

Seoul, Korea (AP) — Allied and Communist artillery blasts echoed through the mountains of Korea's eastern front yesterday as the Reds increased their pressure against U.S. Marines.

Reds Drop Efforts To Ban Blockade

Munsan, Korea, Saturday (AP) — As abruptly as they brought it up, Red negotiators today dropped an apparent attempt to write a Korean armistice that would ban a U.S. blockade of Communist China.

Only yesterday the Communists proposed the word "Korea" be stricken from a paragraph in the proposed truce agreement which provides for withdrawal of naval forces from Korean waters during a truce.

Observers were sure the Communists were trying to frame the draft to make it impossible for the U.S. Navy later to blockade the Red China coast. The U. S. Seventh Fleet now stands in Formosa strait barring a Red invasion of Formosa, Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

After a 39-minute session at Panmunjom, an Allied spokesman said both sides appeared in accord that the word "Korea" should be inserted in pertinent paragraphs of the truce supervision section.

Col. Don O. Darrow said North Korean Communist Col. Chang Chun San "said he did not see the necessity but since we insisted upon it he would consider it."

Chinese Red Col. Pu Shan, who made yesterday's unexpected proposal, was silent.

In an adjoining tent a U. N. command negotiator again spelled out Allied demands on prisoner exchange. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told the Reds they must account for 53,000 missing South Korean soldiers, and agree to voluntary repatriation.

From the course of the negotiations, there was no immediate indication of instructions from Tokyo for breaking the tight truce deadlock.

The senior Allied negotiator himself would not comment on the trip to confer with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, nor could an Allied spokesman. Joy returned yesterday from talks with the supreme Allied commander.

Colonel Pu's suggestions yesterday temporarily sent the talks off on a new tangent.

Allied staff officers quickly diagnosed this as a new Communist attempt to broaden the scope of the Korean armistice agreement to cover Formosa.

Court Upholds Segregation Law

Richmond, Va. (AP) — A special three-judge Federal court yesterday unanimously upheld Virginia's traditional school segregation laws.

In its opinion, the court found that Negro school buildings, facilities, curricula and means of transportation are "not substantially equal" to those provided white pupils in Prince Edward county.

It ordered the county's school authorities to proceed immediately "with all reasonable diligence and dispatch" to equalizing facilities.

Third Plea For Aid

Washington (AP) — Making a third appeal within 24 hours for his $7,500,000,000 mutual security program, President Truman told Congress yesterday that in Western Europe "the year 1952 may well be the critical time in the defense buildup."

Health Chief Indicted In Horsemeat Sale

Chicago (AP) — A grand jury investigating illegal horsemeat sales yesterday reportedly accused Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago's top health officer, of improper conduct in office and failure to perform his duties.

Bunden is president of the Chicago Board of Health, a syndicated health columnist, a nationally known authority on baby care and office an unsuccessful candidate for governor of Illinois. He was reportedly named in a Cook county grand jury true bill accusing him of malfeasance and nonfeasance.

Maximum penalty, if convicted, would be $20,000 in fines and removal from office.

Shortly after the grand jury's action, Mayor Martin H. Kennelly announced that at Bundesen's request he had granted the physician a leave of absence from his post as board of health president.

Investigators charge that racketeers reaped huge profits by selling from 20 to 25 million pounds of horsemeat as hamburger in Chicago in 1950 and 1951. The horsemeat was ground up and mixed with beef and sold for human consumption at OPS ceiling prices for hamburger.

Tot Dies After Taking 100 Pills

The former star will throw out the first ball as the champions open their fiftieth American league campaign.

Heroin Ring Operated In Nine States

San Francisco (AP) — Twenty-three men and women were indicted yesterday on charges of conspiracy in a huge, coast-to-coast heroin racket. New York dope peddler Waxey Gordon was described as the kingpin.

Federal Narcotics Agent Ernest Gentry said it was the biggest collection of important narcotics law violators ever named in one indictment.

Six were already in custody for other violations.

By late afternoon seven others had been arrested.

Bail was set at $10,000 each.

Gentry said the case took one and a half years of investigation and six months to present to the Federal grand jury here.

Although the ring covered nine states, Gentry said, the indictment covered operations only at four western distributing points—Portland, Ore.; Reno, Nev.; Phoenix, Ariz.; and the San Francisco bay area.

The five other states are New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Missouri and Minnesota.

Gordon, whose real name is Irving Wexler, is now serving 25-years-to-life term in Sing Sing for selling heroin.

Gentry said Gordon was the supply man and got his dope from Italian seamen.

The hunt started, Gentry said, after an undercover agent bought heroin from one of the defendants and got a lead on the source of supply.

The 24-count indictment charges 69 acts in conspiracy from August, 1950 to April, 1951.

Gentry hedged when asked if the supply was tied in with Lucky Luciano, thrown out of the U. S. some years ago after establishing an unenviable reputation as a racketeer. Luciano now is in Italy.

Gentry said he (the Trigger) Chapman was in charge of distribution on the Pacific coast, with headquarters in San Francisco. Chapman is serving 15 years in McNeil Island prison now for narcotics conspiracy.

Officers began making arrests at noon when the secret indictment was returned by a Federal grand jury in the court of District Judge Louis E. Goodman.

In Washington, U. S. Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger announced that six of the indicted 23 persons, whom he described as "nationally known racketeers," either seized or already within custody within a few hours after the indictments were returned.

Anslinger named the six as: Joseph Olivero of Kansas City; Betty Haines of Palo Alto, Calif., seized in Denver; Mary Palm Hare, San Francisco; Salvatore Terrano, San Francisco; Mario Malesleri, San Jose, Calif., and Sebastiano Nani, San Jose, captured in New York.

"Reaching into the heart of the underworld in the major cities of the United States, the indictment is closely related to the national narcotics drive in which 500 traffickers were arrested in January, 1952," Anslinger said in a statement.

Corps Officer To Take Part In Services

Brig. William Dewsbury of the Supplies and Purchasing department of the Salvation Army will visit the Stroudsburgs this weekend and will hold special services. As trade secretary in charge of supplies and purchasing for the Eastern territory, Brigadier Dewsbury is head of what he calls the PX of the Salvation Army. He carries in stock everything from books and typewriters to uniforms and bonnets, and fills the special needs of officers and soldiers throughout the 11 Eastern states.

Brigadier Dewsbury has been an officer in the Salvation Army for 30 years. He spent 14 years in Ohio where he held posts as corps officer, prison secretary, youth secretary and divisional commander. He was active in Salvation Army relief work during three floods, two in Marietta and one in Cincinnati, and also helped in aiding the victims of a severe cyclone. He directed Salvation Army camps for a number of years.

During World War Two, Brigadier Dewsbury organized mobile canteen units in Yonkers, N. Y., and on one occasion, with the aid of other Salvation Army resources, provided food for three thousand service men whose commissary had broken down.

In 1946 the brigadier was appointed to the Supplies and Purchasing department. Although most of his weekends are spent filling speaking engagements at Salvation Army meetings, he finds time for three hobbies—golf, photography and stamp collecting. The brigadier is an able speaker and will take part in all the services of the weekend. There is a Sunday morning worship service at 10:30; Sunday school at 2 p. m. and the Sunday evening worship service at 7:45 p. m.

The public are invited to attend.

Fellowship To Show Two Films

Workshop To Be Held For S. S. Teachers

The first session of the Sunday school teachers' work shop will be held in the YMCA on Thursday, March 13 at 7:45 p. m. This program of teacher training is presented by the Monroe County Sunday School association in response to the need expressed by the Monroe County Ministerial association. There will be two periods of instruction each night, for three separate groups, with instructors and instruction for the various classes.

John Litts, county superintendent of the schools will hold two sessions dealing with the problems of the superintendent. Mrs. Herbert Newton, Delaware Water Gap, will be in charge of the Junior and Intermediate departments, discussing "The Art of Story Telling" and associated problems. Miss Geraldine Janser will instruct in the use of "Visual Aids to Reach, Teach and Win Children" and methods for presenting and adapting materials for scholar participation.

All pastors, superintendents and teachers as well as others who are interested in Sunday school work are urged to attend.

Ministers List

Program Speakers

The Monroe County Ministerium has named the speakers for the radio program "Design for Living" over station WVPO each weekday morning except Saturday between 9:15 and 9:30.

Rev. Frank W. Wingerter, chairman of radio work, presents the following schedule:

Monday, Rev. John Bergstresser, Hamilton Lutheran parish.

Tuesday, Rev. Russell Adams, Seventh Day Adventist church, Stroudsburg.

Wednesday, Carl T. Secor, supervising principal, East Stroudsburg schools.

Thursday, Rev. Ralph Feltham, Anaolink Methodist church.

Friday, Rev. Laird Stengle, Berean Mennonite Brethren in Christ church, Stroudsburg.

Rev. Walter S. Johnston, minister of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, will preach two Lenten sermons on Sunday. At the Lenten worship at 11 a. m. his subject will be, "S. O. S.," a frank presentation of the dangers we must not be blind to in our day and a hopeful look at the prospect for the future.

At the Lenten vespers service at 7:30 p. m., Mr. Johnston's subject will be, "Whose Will Will It Be?" The congregation will join in a hymn-sing of the hymns which are so meaningful during this Lenten season.

Each morning during the week, Pastor Adams will conduct a series of devotional talks for the day school which is operated by the local church. Miss Ruth Hallman teaches the school of eight grades.

New Jersey Man Dies Of Injuries Suffered In Accident

Maurice Cole, 66, Was Hurt Last Saturday

Maurice E. Cole, 66, of 19 N. 16th St., Orange, N. J., died at the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, at 6:30 p. m. yesterday of injuries suffered last Saturday morning in a two-car wreck on Route 611, a short distance above Tannersville.

The body was taken in charge by Fuller Blickens, son-in-law of the deceased man, Clarks Summit funeral director.

Six persons were injured in the crackup, three of them seriously. Mr. Cole was operating his car, a sedan, north on the icy highway.

The machine slipped off the right side of the road. When the driver attempted to pull back on the road, the car skidded and veered across the highway into the sedan operated by Andrew J. Stanick, 28, of Mount Pocono.

Five of the six persons injured were passengers in the Stanick machine. The damages to the Cole automobile were estimated at $400 and $800 to the Stanick vehicle.

Of those injured, Williams Campanelli, 32, of Brooklyn, who suffered neck fracture and other injuries, and Anton Bour, 56, also of Brooklyn, who has fractured ribs and other hurts are still hospitalized, but their condition was reported as "good" late last night.

Mrs. Juliette Stanick, 21, of Mount Pocono, wife of the driver of one of the cars, who had a fractured ankle, was discharged yesterday.

CAP Alerted To Search For Jet Planes In Test Problem

Albiontown, Pa.—The Pennsylvania wing of the Civil Air patrol was alerted last night to search for three F-94 jet fighter planes in a test problem conducted by the Air Force East Coast Air Rescue service.

Col. Phillip F. Neuweiler, commander of the Pennsylvania wing, said that some 800 private planes would take off at dawn in accordance with instructions from the Air Rescue service officials at Westover field, Mass.

Neuweiler said the problem called for take-off of search planes from Philadelphia, and bases at Avoca, near Scranton; Williamsport, and Martinsburg, near Altoona.

According to test plans outlined by Neuweiler, the fighter planes took off from Grenier Air Force base in New Hampshire at 4 p. m. and were theoretically scheduled to land at Pittsburgh one hour later.

Neuweiler said the demonstration called for a final radio message from pilots to Wilkes-Barre airport that they expected to be over Williamsport at 4:30 p. m.

Following that the planes presumably headed for undisclosed landing places while the test alarm was sent out to Civil Air patrol units in the eastern section of the country.

Railroad Ties Unloaded At Depot Site

Tobyhanna—T. F. Scholes, Reading contractor, who was awarded a contract to build railroad trackage on the $33,000,000 Signal Depot here began unloading heavy shipments of railroad ties here this week.

Extensive trackage will be located adjacent the Lackawanna Railroad tracks at the west side of the depot site. Relocation of State Highway Route 45036 for some distance will be necessary to accommodate the track installations required by the depot.

Cost of the tracks and their installation will run $604,855, the low bid submitted by the Scholes firm.

An inspection of the depot project was completed this week by officials of Philadelphia District Army Engineers. They were conducted about the site of the depot by Captain John A. Myers, resident engineer.

Representatives of Philadelphia office here were Lt. Col. James A. Vivian, executive assistant; George Keely, assistant chief of construction division and George Stout of the same division.

A conference with representatives of Roche Bros., East Pittsburgh contractor, followed the project study. The Roche have the initial or site preparation contract. Representing the firm were Joseph Roche, P. K. Schneberger, chief engineer, both of Pittsburgh, and George Nicholson, superintendent.

Roche resumed operations on a limited scale recently. This phase of the contract had been shut down since last November 24 as a result of a jurisdictional dispute between the General Drivers & Helpers Union and the International Union of Operating Engineers, both AF of L affiliated.

Bad weather conditions and frost had also been termed by representatives of the contractor as a factor against full resumption of operations.

A working schedule and other plans are virtually completed by Consolidated Construction, Woodbury, N. J. for a $4,470,045 contract to erect four general purpose warehouses and various foundations on the site.

Steel has been arriving in large quantities for this contract. Buildings will be single floor covered structures 200 feet by 1,200 feet.

Truman Urges Adherence To Freedoms

Washington (AP) — President Truman last night urged adherence to "the principles of freedom of conscience and religious toleration" and said without them "the spirit of justice will perish and with it all the other cherished institutions of democracy."

He expressed the thought in a message sent to the First Baptist church of Washington, which observed its 150th anniversary at a banquet last night.

Truman frequently attends services at the church, located at 16th and O Sts., N.W. Its pastor, Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden, delivered the invocation at his inauguration in January, 1948.

The President, who had left earlier in the day for a Florida vacation, said in his message that "until the rise of totalitarian governments freedom of conscience was accepted as the natural order of things among civilized nations." He continued:

"In this country, fortunately, liberty of religion and of education, a free press and the right of assembly were written into the organic law of the land through the wisdom of the fathers of the Constitution."

"The Baptists of this country have a proud heritage from the founder of their first church in the new world, Roger Williams, who despite persecution and banishment ever held aloft the torch of religious liberty—complete freedom of conscience."

"When we see that great principle of freedom obliterated today in once happy lands over the face of the earth, it should arouse in all our minds and hearts a renewed determination to rededicate ourselves to this fundamental tenet of American policy."

Reports Show Drive Meets With Success

Progress in the 1952 Red Cross fund campaign is reflected by the fact that captains in many districts are already coming in for more supplies, Robert Schell, fund chairman, reported last night at the meeting of the executive board and board of directors held at Red Cross headquarters.

Mr. Schell read the names of borough and township leaders who with their co-workers are seeking to raise this year's county quota of $13,815. In all, there will be several hundred workers, Mr. Schell announced.

He said that 70 people had made spot recordings to be broadcast over WVFO during the campaign, and that radio and newspaper publicity was telling the Red Cross story.

The services of the Monroe County Red Cross are going on as usual, other reports given at the meeting indicated. George Robinson, chapter chairman, presided at the meeting.

Nelson Westbrook, county first aid chairman, reported a class currently being conducted in Tobyhanna township by Dr. James G. Kitchen II where the firemen were being trained. There are a number of requests for classes, he said, and the present need is for instructors. A national field representative will be here in the near future for an instructors class at the college where 100 are being certified, he said.

Miss Miriam Lark gave the report of the home nursing chairman, Mrs. Eugene Martin. Women taking the home nursing course at Mount Pocono with Mrs. David Kohn as instructor, have had immediate use for the training. Mrs. Kohn reported, since they could go directly from their classes to homes where the virus infection had patients ready for their administrations.

A letter from the East Stroudsburg High school thanking the chapter for the course recently completed for all senior girls at the high school was read, and Mrs. Thomas Shoemith, instructor, was highly commended. There is also a home nursing course at the Salvation Army at the present time.

Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, chairman of volunteer services, reported that during the month 83 volunteers had given 987 hours of service through the hospital and two-day visit of the mobile blood unit. Mrs. Koehler paid tribute to Mrs. Walter Dreher, and the help she has given as vice chairman of the volunteer services.

In her report, Mrs. Koehler said that nine administration volunteers had given more than 26 hours; 20 canteen service volunteers, more than 159 hours; Gray Ladies had given 529 hours; motor service made 37 trips for 162 miles, with five volunteers giving more than 25 hours; 12 nurses aides gave more than 130 hours; 7 staff aides, 50 hours; and 10 registered nurses 60 hours of service.

In the home service department, Mrs. Ida B. Kunkle reported that there had been 13 new cases and 13 requests for service not counted as cases. Three families were given financial assistance, and there were six long distance calls and 12 telegrams on behalf of servicemen or their dependents. There were 17 home visits, 109 office visits; and eight transient veterans assisted with meal tickets or other help.

A cooperative plan for emergency services is being developed by the Red Cross in cooperation with the Civil Defense administration in the county, Mr. Schell reported.

Wilbur H. Scheaffer, Known In Stroudsburg, Killed In New Jersey Motor Accident

Wilbur H. Scheaffer, 48, of Ephrata, was instantly killed yesterday morning when his car collided with a truck on Route 39, north of High Bridge, N. J. Pauline Bossert, 36, of Millintown, operator of the car, suffered internal injuries.

State Trooper Howard Card, of the Clinton barracks, said the truck owned by Cyrus Fox, of that place, was operated by Henry H. Dilts, 24, of Pattenburg, N. J. It made a left turn when it collided with the car, police said.

The woman operator of the car was taken to the Lemmon clinic, Glen Gardner, and the dead man to the Trimmer funeral home, Clinton. Mr. Scheaffer was a frequent visitor to Stroudsburg and community where he was quite well known.

August Backus, 74, Succumbs In Milwaukee

August C. Backus, 74, father of Dr. Charlotte Jordan, of Stroudsburg, died at his home in Milwaukee, Wis., Thursday afternoon. While he had not been in the best of health the past year his death was unexpected. His wife died five years ago.

Mr. Backus, an attorney, had an active career. He was identified with the senior Robert LaFollette, long political leader in his state. His first public office being that of district attorney in his county. He also served as a municipal court judge in Milwaukee and was a former publisher of the Milwaukee Sentinel. His recent years were devoted to his law practice.

Besides Dr. Charlotte Jordan, another daughter, Mrs. Lucile Newcomb, wife of Dr. Alvah Newcomb, of Wilmette, Ill., and two sons, August C. Jr., and Walter Backus, both attorneys of Milwaukee, survive.

Dr. Charlotte Jordan and son, Henry, will attend the funeral this afternoon in Milwaukee.

Students Give 'Nomination' To Eisenhower

New Wilmington (AP) — After a close fight, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower got the Republican nomination for president yesterday to end a three-day GOP convention held by Westminster College students.

Less than 500 of some 600 weary student delegates were on hand for the finish. Eleven ballots were taken before the general received the necessary two-thirds majority.

It took only three ballots before Gov. Earl Warren of California was nominated for vice president.

Court Slaps the Commies

The Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that no one has the right to wrap himself in the flag and hide behind the Constitution and at the same time attempt to rip that flag and destroy that Constitution.

This ruling came Monday when the court upheld the New York State Feinberg Law.

This act enables the state to fire public school employees who advocate overthrow of the government by illegal means or who belong to organizations that preach and practice such doctrines.

The majority opinion was written by Justice Sherman Minton and concurred in by five other judges. Dissenting opinions were written by Justices William O. Douglas and Felix Frankfurter and concurred in by Justice Hugo L. Black.

Judge Minton properly held that the government has a right to protect itself against those who would cast it out and substitute foreign rule.

Any government which did not have the power to protect itself would be a feeble one indeed, subject to constant attacks without and within.

Actually, a government without the power to protect itself couldn't even defend itself when attacked by an invading power.

And the self-confessed purpose of Communism, to set up a Soviet States of America subservient to Russia, is every bit as much a threat as if Moscow launched an air attack upon us.

Judge Minton also pointed out that the privilege of working for the New York school system is not an absolute privilege. The State of New York makes the rules covering its employees, not those seeking to get on the public payroll.

Justice Douglas, who recently said that this country should recognize Red China, held that the New York law denies teachers their civil rights.

Since when have civil rights included the right to preach violent revolt in the interest of a foreign power?

The great liberal Supreme Court Justice, Oliver Wendell Holmes, often quoted by Judge Douglas, once held that the right of free speech is not absolute.

No one is permitted to jump up in a crowded theater and cry, "Fire," when there is no fire or threat of one, he held.

Nor can we permit the agents of a foreign power to attempt to burn our house down.

Red Undersea Boats

It is probably no news to the United States Navy that elements of the Russian undersea fleet are hanging around the Caribbean where our Navy is holding one of its periodic fleet maneuvers.

Reports in the news indicate that the Navy has called for an investigation of the story attributed to a Dominican Republic spokesman in which he openly declared that mystery undersea units had been observed in the waters off the small island republic and that they were unmistakably Russian designed.

Naturally our Navy cannot disregard such a report, and will without a doubt make a proper investigation of it, but unless our Navy's intelligence personnel are sound asleep it is our profound belief that they already know all about the presence of the U-boats if they are there.

The whole point is just this: do not be surprised when you hear of Russian-designed U-boats in Caribbean waters, but be alarmed when they are no longer plotted on the Navy's well kept charts!

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Church and State
Civilization has produced two institutions which are universal in a variety of forms. They are the church in its manifold arrangements and the state in its numerous organizations. Sometimes they are identical; sometimes one controls the other; sometimes they have actually been antagonistic to each other.

Whatever the historic circumstances, these two institutions survive all the vicissitudes of time and history. The Moslem civilization, for instance, united the church and state, until after World War I, when nationalism appeared in the Arab's world as it already had among the Turks of the Ottoman empire. Nationalism separates church from state, even subordinating the church to the authority of the state.

In Czarist Russia, the state controlled the church, the head of the orthodox church being the Czar, with its management vested in the procurator of the Holy Synod, a lay government official. Similarly the King of England is at the head of the Anglican church, although its management is in the clergy led by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

When the Papal States were a widespread kingdom, the Pope was an important temporal ruler.

The vestige of that position remains in Vatican City which is not only the center of a world-wide religion but also a sovereign state.

The question must arise in the minds of students of history as to what human necessity requires that these two institutions survive wars, revolutions, disasters. No matter what is done to destroy religion, it reasserts itself, as it is doing at this moment in Soviet Russia. No matter how many forms of government are destroyed and disappear, the institution of government re-establishes itself in some new variation perhaps of an already tried form.

The church, whether it be with doctors or a south sea island or the highly organized and ritualistic religions with which we are familiar, is the manifestation in form of man's yearning for eternity and his search for an explanation for that yearning. No matter how much man has tried to explain his existence as accidental and his achievement as the product solely of his own mind, he returns repeatedly to the supernatural as the relationship between man and his existence.

Arnold Toynbee put it this way: "... Though sixteen civilizations may have perished already to our knowledge, and nine others may be now at the point of death, and though Nature, in her wanton prodigality, may be wont to slay the representatives of a species, not by tens or scores, but by thousands and tens of thousands, before she rouses herself to create a new specific mutation, we need fear no evil from the encompassing Shadow of Death; for we are not compelled to submit out fate to the blind arbitrament of statistics. The divine spark of creative power is instinct in ourselves; and if we have the grace to kindle it into flame, then the stars in their courses cannot defeat our efforts to attain the goal of human endeavours."

The church, of whatever complexion, returns to life after each catastrophe. It becomes vibrant after each period of rejection. Similarly, each decay of civilization is followed by a new development in government. For man obviously abhors anarchy. The nomad on the steppes or the individualistic settler of remote areas may, for an historical moment, be a law unto himself. But as soon as community life appears, government reasserts itself.

Government starts afresh under the most promising circumstances of justice and right; with authority is associated responsibility. Such figures as Hammurabi, Moses, Confucius, Solon, Lycurgus, Jefferson prepared codes always associated with morals.

No matter how just a government seeks to be, its nature is to expand its powers until freedom is limited and justice is abused. The expansion of the power of government usually is stopped by the destruction of a particular government either by war or revolution. Hitler and Stalin are not exceptional; they followed a

Scripture—Acts 20:17-27; 22:3-29; II Corinthians 11:24-33; Philippians 3:4-17

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Persecution is a word we of this modern world know all too well. The Jews have been persecuted almost to the point of extermination in some countries. Christians are also being persecuted in various parts of the world, and Christ is denied. His ministers are put into prison and tortured to make them confess to crimes of which they are innocent.

Persecutions of the Christians began with the death of Stephen, in which Paul participated, not actively, but, as he himself says, he consented to it, and "kept the raiment of those that slew him."

Paul had spent two years in Ephesus, then going to Miletus. He was eager to be in Jerusalem for Pentecost. Possibly he had a strong premonition that he would not be able to come back to that part of the world, so from Miletus he sent to Ephesus for the elders to come to him.

When they had come, he reminded them of his ministry. He told them he had served the Lord "with all humility of mind, and with many tears and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews."

He had kept back nothing that was profitable for them, he said; he had "taught you publicly and from house to house. Testifying both to the Jews and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ."

"And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more."

The parting was sad; sorrowing they wept and kissed him goodbye.

Paul's foreboding of what would happen to him in Jerusalem was all too justified. His own people were outraged at his preaching to Gentiles. They even accused him of taking Greeks into the temple, defiling it—which was untrue. So incensed were the people that they would have killed him had not the Roman soldiers intervened and taken him to the castle, or prison.

As he was ascending the stair to the castle, he asked if he might speak to the people, and, after permission was given and "there was a great silence," he spoke, saying he was a Jew by birth, and had been brought up strictly in the laws of Moses, and, in fact, was a Pharisee. He told of his persecutions of the Christians and how he was planning further atrocities for them, when he had the vision of Jesus on the road to Damascus, and was converted.

He went into all the incidents of his conversion and how later, he had another vision—of which he had not been told before—in which God told him to preach to the Gentiles.

The multitude listened to him, but at the end they "lifted up their voices, and said, 'Away with such a fellow from the earth, for it is not fit that he should live. And as they cried out, and cast off their cloths, and threw dust into the air,'"

The chief captain commanded that Paul be brought into the castle, and "bade that he be examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him." That is also very like our own day when those accused are tortured to make them confess.

They bound Paul, but before they could beat him, he asked, "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?"

The centurion told the chief captain what Paul had said, and the chief captain came to Paul and asked, "Art thou a Roman?" and when Paul said he was, the captain said his own freedom was bought at a great price, but Paul said that he was born free. The captain was really afraid then; that he might be punished because he had bound this man.

Paul was a great man, one who is remembered, revered and quoted today when many empires have crashed and great conquerors have gone from the earth and are hardly remembered.

From his prison he wrote to the Corinthians, reminding them of his many sufferings, even by his own people. Frequently he had been beaten, many times near death. His own people had beaten and stoned him. He had been in peril of waters, robbers, by the heathen, in the city, the wilderness and the sea.

"In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness, besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches."

He reminded them, too, that in Damascus he had been in danger of death and was saved by the brethren who had let him down a wall in a basket so that he escaped.

"Things had not been going well with the followers in Corinth. There were schisms in the church. Some had been antagonistic to Paul, even denying that he had a right to speak as an apostle. They accused him of selfishness, covetousness, and other things."

Memory Verse—"One thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before. I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."—Philippians 3:13, 14.

All in the Family

—By Jack Lait

This week marks another anniversary of my start as a newspaper man, on the old Chicago American, when it was at 214 (old numbering) Madison Street, near Franklin.

Quite coincidentally, I was solicited yesterday by a television producer for permission to "dramatize" what I would regard as the most exciting episode in my long experience as a reporter.

The adventure chosen was one of my earliest. It took place a few weeks after I got my baptism as a cub.

Two tramps came into the editorial room with a tip for sale. They were sleeping in a flop-house over a barrel-house on Madison Street, near Halsted Street. They said the bums there were being recruited to vote, several times each, for a candidate in the judicial election, which that year was set for June 1.

The city editor, Arthur Clarke, called me. He instructed me to disguise myself as a hobo, check into the place and work my way in as a "repeater."

I borrowed inky overalls from a printer, smeared my face with dirt from the composing-room floor, and joined the drunken derelicts. I told them I had just come in "off the rods" from Kansas City. I was a slender lad and they designated me "Kansas City Slim."

I had no trouble being accepted into the fraternity of hobos. One of them, who had been made a sort of captain for the rookery, approached me and asked whether I wanted to make a couple of bucks.

I was to be paid 50 cents for each vote.

He gave me four slips. Each was marked with the address of a polling-place in that ward (the old 18th) and a name which had been registered there.

Early on the morning of June 1, several dozen of us started forth.

I voted three times, as instructed, for the candidate of the Democratic city machine. I gave each name as I was instructed to in three different precincts. Although I looked rather young for a voter and though the several names represented different ages and nationalities, I was not challenged.

After casting my third ballot, I slipped away and phoned the city desk. The last polling place, a cigar store, was on Halsted Street near the saloon of John J. Brennan, the boss of the ward and a "gray wolf" alderman.

I had "cased" the spot. The day was beautiful, sunny and warm. The door of the store was wide open.

The office told me one of our older reporters, a cameraman and a representative of the election board would start at once, and that I was to wait until their arrival near the place before I went in to vote.

I did so.

In the other three stores I had been given paper ballots already marked with the "X" in the square for the candidate. I had entered the booths, made believe I was making my mark, and had then emerged and dropped each pink paper in a ballot-box.

But in the fourth location Brennan, in person, was present. I did not know him. But I could see at once that he was someone of importance.

Here, instead of giving me a marked ballot, a man (I later

"ACTIVITY IN THE YANKEE DUGOUT!"

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

I had a very interesting experience last night.

We went to a party. It was a nice party. It was given for a couple who are moving away from the neighborhood.

There was a certified public accountant and his wife. There was a drug store proprietor and his spouse. There was a hotel manager and his mate. There was a cartoonist, a designer, and I—with our wives.

I should say it was a typical cross-section of American life.

We were the kind who take a second helping of the delicious buffet supper—roast beef, broccoli, roast potatoes, a tossed salad, a melt-in-your-mouth chocolate cake, and coffee.

I learned he was a bridge tender, walked into the booth with me, and behind the curtain, scratched the "X" with a pencil. I then emerged and went to the center of the room. But, as I walked, I marked the back of the folded sheet with a small pencil I had concealed in my palm. As nearly as I could make it, the one-handed scratch represented "J. L."

Brennan, himself, between me and the outer door, slipped a half-dollar into my hand. At that moment the photographer made the shot. The election official entered and impounded the ballot-box.

No one paid any attention to me for a moment. Then someone swung at my jaw. I ducked and took it on the run for a Madison Street trolley-car.

Three shots sang past me before I got aboard. I made my way to the office. A "rewrite man," Hugh S. Fullerton, took the story from me. In a few minutes the print of the photo was made. It was clear.

Brennan and several others were convicted.

He was decent about it all. I think he saved my life, for several groups of hoodlums around those wicked corners cooked up various plots to slug me, kidnap me or kill me to keep me from testifying. But I know John Brennan sent word to "lay off." Even so, I was put in a tight spot several times. He was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell and served his time. We later became friendly and he bore me no grudge.

It was a famous case and had put my name on Page 1 long before it ever appeared as a by-line.

Hollywood—Glimpses of Glamerville—

Ann Blyth, who's 23, plays a girl of 12 in part of "Sally and St. Ann." With fake braces on her teeth, wearing bobby sox and a schoolgirl's middie uniform, little Annie really looks it.

Jean Peters says the tattered buckskins she wears in "Cry of the Swamp" are "driving me nuts." On a day off, she went to a Wilshire Boulevard department store and "bought some of every thing in sight, including some mad hats and three suits." Jean wants to do a movie in which she'll wear glamorous gowns. But the studio keeps casting her in rags.

The crushing handshake in town is Rory Calhoun's... Cornell Wilde had a gold medal cast for Director Delmer Daves. It's in appreciation of Daves' expert direction of "Condo's Nest" and is patterned after a Mayan emblem they encountered on location in Guatemala.

Movie-House Baseball

Television—ups which will bring big-league baseball games to movie theaters all through the season are near, thinks Walter O'Malley, head-man of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The year 1953 may see Dodge games telecast to cinema houses, he says. Other big league baseball officials are thinking along the same lines, and we await the advent of the untanned baseball fan, the indoor bleacherite and the cry of "Throw the bum out!" somewhere between the Dorothy Lamour film and the newsreels from Washington.

To give baseball complete movie-house box-office appeal it may be necessary to dress the hitter in cowboy costume, put the pitcher in sheriff's garb and let the catcher work from a cowpunch. The path to first base could be through a rocky canyon, with a couple of boulders serving as the bag. When the visiting team sends up a pinch hitter with none out, a man on second and the score tied, the Hollywood tempo could be secured by a flashback to a stagecoach rattling along a western trail and carrying from the East a young woman inveigled by gamblers into betting that there will be no score. (She has fallen in love with the pitcher by photograph.)

The rules will have to be rewritten for the movie trade. Eleven innings instead of nine. This will permit an opening inning in which Esther Williams does a double somersault in a catcher's mask and announces today's lineup underwater. Immediately following this, a film called "Border Passion" is begun. It opens with a band of Apache Indians pursuing Garry Cooper who is fleeing on horseback with Elizabeth Taylor across the saddle. (If the ball game gets too one-sided you can bet on the chase.) Between each inning the progress of the pursuit is shown, giving the baseball fans a chance to throw pop bottles at an Indian pony and cry "Slide, ya heel!" at the hero.

There will be a complete intermission between the fifth and sixth innings to give the ball game the aspect of a double feature. The official standing of the Indians and Cooper and the official time for the distance covered can be announced. If Gary seems to be weakening, he can be taken out and a fresh cowhand called in from the bull pen. Should the girl seem exhausted it can be announced that she will be traded for two provocative dishes from Atlanta.

In the extra inning, tagged on to the end of the ball game, the audience will get the box score of the game, the western with credit lines for everybody including the Stevens Brothers, the groundskeeper, the club officials, the ballplayers, Gary Cooper and probably Darryl Zanuck. Play ball!

March is to this writer the month that comes in like a lion, hangs around like a tiger and goes out like a crossbreed. The cats can have it.

Can you remember away back when politicians used to be against crushing taxes on the people and feared it would cost them votes?

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

William Faulkner, winner of the Nobel Prize for literature, raises mules in his spare time on his plantation in Mississippi. One of his most efficient field helpers suddenly showed an alarming slump in his work. A revivalist filled him with such religious fervor that he gave up cussing altogether, and his mule driving suffered accordingly.

One summer afternoon, with the temperature hovering about 110 degrees in the shade, Faulkner saw the convert's team of mules stop dead in their tracks, while the convert grew apoplectic with rage. Finally he hollered, "You blankety blank blankety no-account critters! Ef you don't get goin' you blank so-and-so..." Then he added in a lower tone, "as I used to say afore I got religion."

Nicholas Monsarrat, author of the Book-of-the-Month Club novel, "The Cruel Sea," sounds like a man who has had a lot of experience with the "weaker." "Arguing with a woman," maintains Monsarrat, "is like trying to read a newspaper in a high wind."

Cancer Unit Has Lecture, Movies Here

The women's division of the local unit of the American Cancer society, meeting yesterday afternoon at the YMCA, heard Mrs. J. Stewart Williams, north-eastern area field representative for the Pennsylvania division, speak to them on cancer, and practical steps which women could take through education, assistance in cancer dressings and in the coming April campaign, of which Detlef Hansen is chairman.

Mrs. Robert A. Miller, county captain of the unit, presided at the meeting and showed two films, "Traitors Within," and "Cancer Crusade," the latter telling how the money raised in the campaign is spent.

Locally, Mrs. Miller pointed out that of the $3,000 quota, the sum of $2,100 has been spent for service. Dressings, sedatives when recommended by the physician, transportation and nursing service, Dr. E. C. Horn Jr., is director of the service division in Monroe county and Mrs. John Stanford is in charge of dressings.

Mrs. Stanford is still asking for material which can be used for cancer dressings. Such material should be laundered, wrapped in plain paper and left at the cancer headquarters at 615 Sarah St.

Any inquiries concerning any branch of the cancer work here in the county could be telephoned to Mrs. Miller, she said.

Present for the meeting yesterday afternoon was Miss Helen Clark, of Pike county; Mrs. George Huguin and Mrs. E. E. Boone of the Barrett Women's club which plans to make dressings as a project; and Mrs. Edith Laz, Mrs. Katherine Vaughn, Mrs. M. S. Carroll, Mrs. Rose Reader, Mrs. David Katz, Mrs. Ora Woodling, Miss Margaret Pearce, Mrs. Horace O. Butler, Mrs. T. L. Metzgar, Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, Mrs. Detlef Hansen, Mrs. John Stanford, Mrs. V. L. Wallace, Mrs. Roger Dunning, Mrs. Gordon Coy.

Beverly Bogert Is Honored On 15th Birthday

Miss Beverly Bogert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Bogert, of 492 Chestnut St., East Stroudsburg, celebrated her 15th birthday at her home last night when she was hostess to a number of her friends.

Games were played and refreshments were served featuring an attractively decorated birthday cake. Miss Bogert was the recipient of many gifts.

Those in attendance were: Roberta Hoehne, Vilja Krek, Ethel Palmer, Audrey Treible, Delores Kaller, Mary Ann Bosman, Clare Fisher, Carol Cramer, Harriett Kassay, Nancy Cowell, Lillian Stettler, Joyce Flyte, Lorraine Booth, Barry and Paul Turner, Bobby Powell and the hostess, Beverly Bogert.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

"Be not weary in well-doing," might well be pasted as a motto above the kitchen sinks of a lot of women these days. Besides the dishes, and meals and taking temperatures and their usual chores, they've taken on a heap of other worthy projects.

The Red Cross neighborhood canvasser, for instance, bless their hearts. Oh, and that was an amusing little note from the women taking the Red Cross home nursing course in Mount Pocono. What with all the sickness around the community, they could go right home from class and practice what they'd learned about taking care of the sick in the home.

And now comes the Cancer unit, drafting helpers from the ranks of women who are already carrying double. Maybe you sit-by-the-fires better pitch in and help somewhere along the line, before they get sway-backed.

Everybody seems chipper enough, though—all except the woman at the American Legion who stood up to be counted at the wrong time and almost had the wrong team winning. Wonder who that was, anyway? Bet she took a ride.

But speaking of the Legion makes me wonder how many women it's going to take to fill the places Jeanne Gutman's filled for all these many years now that she's leaving. Probably about 6.

GOP Council To Entertain State President

Mrs. Russell W. Dixon, president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women will be the guest of the Monroe Council on April 8, and Mrs. H. Russell Custard, president of the local council, yesterday called a meeting of special committees yesterday to formulate plans for the luncheon.

It will be held at the Penn-Stroud hotel, and Mrs. Clyde Pyle, chairman of the program committee will be assisted by Mrs. John Gish and Mrs. J. Edgar Powell, co-chairmen; Mrs. Harold Ingraham, Mrs. P. A. Rockefeller, Mrs. Frank French, Mrs. Ernest Taylor, Mrs. W. H. Clark, Mrs. Walter Caulfield and Mrs. Floyd Bachman.

Mrs. Russell Scott Jr. was named chairman of the luncheon committee assisted by Mrs. Carl Wagner, Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin, Mrs. Elwood Doll, and Mrs. Harry Rauchenberger. The decorations committee is headed by Mrs. Eli Travis and will include Mrs. Paul Lloyd, Mrs. Elmer Kiefer Jr., Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr., Mrs. Olaf Pedersen, Mrs. Earl Primrose and Mrs. John Lim.

The reception committee will have as its chairman Mrs. Montgomery Crowe, with Mrs. John S. Shotwell, Mrs. Fred W. Davis, Mrs. James Gould, Mrs. E. K. Williams, Mrs. Edward Kenney, Mrs. Arthur Slee, Mrs. Herbert Lorenz and Mrs. Amzi Altomose assisting.

The ticket committee includes: Mrs. Harold Lanterman, chairman; Mrs. Spencer Cramer, Mrs. A. C. Huber, Mrs. Arthur George, Mrs. H. G. Litts, Mrs. Edwin Hughes, Mrs. Charles Gorman, Mrs. Howard Altomose, Mrs. Alphonse Meyers and Mrs. John Garcia, while Mrs. John Kitchen and Miss Nora Leffler are in charge of publicity.

The committee decided to compose a song to be used at the council meeting. Further details of the luncheon will be announced at the March meeting of the council next Wednesday at the YMCA.

Following the discussion refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Russell Custard and Mrs. Montgomery Crowe.

Lodge Will Mark 50th Anniversary

The local lodge of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty will mark its 50th anniversary with a Golden Anniversary banquet to be held next Friday night, March 14, at 6:30 at the Penn-Stroud hotel.

At that time they hope to honor the seven charter members of the lodge, who are still living. Mrs. Mae Franks is chairman of the banquet committee, and Kenneth Adams will serve as toastmaster.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton will be the guest speaker, and Mrs. Carolyn Karbel will present a history of the organization. State and national officers are expected to be present for the banquet.

The dinner will be followed by cards and a social time. Members and friends wishing further information or tickets have been asked to call Mrs. Franks, or the Councilor, Mrs. Flossie Snyder.

Girl Scout Week To Be Busy In Local Troops

Girl Scout week opens this weekend and will be observed in Monroe County with special activities in all of the 34 troops, as well with a number of special events climaxing with the county-wide rally on Saturday morning, March 15.

The intermediate Girl Scouts will present a radio program on Sunday afternoon, March 9, at 4:30 over WVPO, and on March 12, which is the actual birthday of Girl Scouting, Mrs. Ruth Heller will serve as narrator for a half hour Girl Scout program. The senior Scouts will present a program on Sunday, March 16.

Chorus Rehearsal Community chorus rehearsal is scheduled for 7:30 Monday night at the YMCA. Members are asked to report promptly so that rehearsal will be finished in time for the Community Concert.

Canned condensed mushroom soup is delicious with canned creamed corn added. Use a ten-and-one-half-ounce can of the soup plus three-quarters cup of milk (swishing the can out with the milk) and a cup of cream-style corn. Heat until piping hot, stirring well.

Coarse-grained cakes may be due to insufficient creaming, too much baking powder, or too slow an oven. And don't over-bake your cake or it will tend to be dry.

Close Count Ends Contest Of Legion Aux.

There was a photo finish of the American Legion auxiliary contest which ended on Thursday night at the meeting at the Legion home. The contest was at first announced as a tie between the blue team and the gold team, but a recount showed that one member had stood up to be counted with the wrong team.

The Gold team, captained by Mrs. Lorraine Heckman, was therefore declared the winner over the blue team, captained by Mrs. Bessie Marek by a score of 443 to 441. Since the contest had been conducted over a long period of time, and points were earned by getting new members, renewal of memberships, and attendance at meetings.

For the final meeting the gold team had 66 percent and the blue team 46, thus putting them over the top. The blue team will entertain the gold team at a dinner at the April meeting.

Mrs. Victor Koch membership chairman presented the following names for membership: Mrs. Carolyn H. Mackes, Mrs. Jennie Siproth, Mrs. Helen Lord, Mrs. Sarah Frailey, Mrs. Virginia Compton Ramm, and Miss Cynthia Ann Gage, a Junior. This brought the total paid membership to 368, within 12 of the auxiliary's quota of 380 members. A special effort will be made to reach the quota before the April meeting.

Mrs. Charles Reid, community service chairman, reported that the three hospital beds were now in use in the community but that the wheel chair was now available for anyone who needed it.

Mrs. Rudolph Blitz Jr., coupon chairman, reported that 333 bonus coupons had been sent, that 2,141 more would be taken to the Four-County council meeting on Saturday in Bethlehem, together with 788 wrappers presented by Mrs. Jacob Schmidt.

Birthdays, anniversaries and other announcements for the Bayonet Point should be given to Vince Marek, it was announced by Mrs. John G. Becker, radio and publicity chairman, which goes to press the third Thursday of each month.

Prospective plans for a bus trip to Scotland School in June to see the graduation exercises for the children there were discussed with Mrs. Howard Mount, chairman of education of war orphans, telling of the work of the school.

The report of the Servicemen's canteen committee, now meeting every three months, was given by Mrs. Jeanne Gutman, Legion delegate to the committee.

Contributions to welfare work at the meeting included $15 for the child welfare shower at the coming council meeting; $8 to the Red Cross fund campaign; and enough money to purchase cinder blocks for the partitions in the auditorium.

Members were asked to bring used clothing, especially for men and children, to restock the supply in the used clothing rooms in the Court House, and members were asked to help with cancer dressings.

Hostesses at the youth center on March 8 will be Mrs. James Kopenhaver and Mrs. R. C. Hallock; on March 15, Mrs. Leo Aechterman and Mrs. Lucy Heller; on March 22, Mrs. Robert Berner and Mrs. Earl Weiss Jr.; and on March 29, Mrs. Hazel Kresge and Mrs. Norman Gregory.

After the meeting, an entertainment was given featuring Mrs. Elva Knowles in pantomimes to the recordings of Spike Jones, "So Help Me" and "Blowing Bubble Gum."

Refreshments were served at tables decorated in the St. Patrick's Day motif by Mrs. Lulu Miller and Mrs. Charlotte Young and their committee.

Early Meeting For Anna Logans

The regular monthly meeting of the Anna Logan society of the General Hospital will be held Monday night at 7:15 at the YMCA. There will be a very short business meeting with the president, Mrs. Robert A. Miller, presiding.

The work period and social hour will be cancelled because of the Community concert at the college.

Mrs. Gutman Is Moving To Pottstown Soon

Mrs. Jeanne Gutman is moving away from the Stroudsburg after 30 years of active service to the community. She is moving to Pottstown where she has obtained a position at the Linden Apartments, Hanover St. With her husband, the late Oscar Gutman, she came to Monroe County in 1922 when they owned and operated the Cataract House at Minisink Hills, now Pottocabana. There the twins, Michael, now a staff sergeant stationed at Mitchell Field, and Charlotta, now Mrs. Ocker, of Scranton, were born. Another son, John Bernard is now teaching at Indian Head, Maryland.

Throughout the years, Mrs. Gutman has taken an active part in community affairs. She was for years secretary of the General Hospital auxiliary and is now a member of the Grey Ladies service of the Red Cross which functions at the hospital and at the Blood bank. She was treasurer of the Pocono Cooties, and for years was essay chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. She served as secretary of the American Legion auxiliary and on the 8 and 40, and is a former president of the Sisterhood of the Temple Israel. She has served as publicity chairman for many of the organizations of which she has been a member.

She plans to leave about March 16 for her new home, where she will be near her own family. However she expects to visit her brother, Julius Kessler in Bushkill from time to time, and to see her many friends here.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Harold Steenake have gone to Lakeland, Fla., where they are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Flory. Mrs. Flory is still confined to the Restorium in Lakeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlington W. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Merle E. Stevenson and their children left yesterday for South Hadley, Mass., where they will visit their daughters, Janice Williams and Ann Stevenson, at Mount Holyoke College.

Northampton Co. Women's Clubs To Meet

Portland—Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter, corresponding secretary of the Federation of Woman's clubs of Northampton county yesterday mailed notices of the spring meeting to be held Thursday, April 17, at St. John's Ev. and Reformed church, South Broad St., Nazareth.

An executive board meeting will precede the meeting at 2 p. m., with registration listed for 2:30 and the afternoon session called for 3:15.

The night meeting will begin at 7:15 with all sessions at the church including a dinner in the church school room at 6. Reservations for the dinner must be made with Mrs. Paul E. Meyers of 125 East Center St., Nazareth, by April 10.

Mrs. Willard Thomas, of Nazareth, county president, will preside and the speakers will be Mrs. William K. Creasy, north-east district vice president; Mrs. A. Horner Slick, State legislative chairman; Mrs. Benfer Zechman, second vice president-at-large. New officers will be installed at this meeting.

Book Review Featured By YMCA Aux.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the YMCA met in the "Y" Rooms on Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. M. S. Baldwin, presided over the business session and announced that the food sale of the auxiliary would be held on May 24, plans and committees to be named at our meeting in April.

Mrs. Baldwin then introduced Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, librarian of Monroe County Public library, who told the story of "The Man Called Peter," the book written by the wife of Rev. Peter Marshall after death of her husband. Rev. Marshall was chaplain of the Senate under two administrations and had given the prayer at the inauguration of President Harry S. Truman in January, 1949. Shortly after Rev. Marshall suffered his second heart attack and died at the age of 48 years.

In her review, Mrs. Kane told of his birth of humble parents, and how he came to this country when a very young man and with no idea of becoming a minister until he taught the Men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church in Birmingham, Ala.

The members were so impressed with his eloquence and sincerity that they put him through the seminary. After six years of preaching in the south he found himself minister to the largest Presbyterian church in the nation's capital.

His next ten years were so filled with evangelistic work, public speaking and he became known far and wide for his wonderful eloquence and beautiful diction. His religious philosophy was "Take God with you everywhere; he is the God of laughter as well as tears."

His last words before his death to his wife, Catherine, on retiring were: "I'll see you in the morning, Darling," and with these hopeful words, she has always consoled herself, as they were the last ever spoken by him.

The tea table was beautifully decorated with candles, silver and figurines. Mrs. W. Dolby Palmer poured and the hostesses were Mrs. Charles E. Peters and Mrs. Arlington Williams.

Music Club Program Tuesday

The Music Study Club of the Stroudsburgs will meet on Tuesday night at 8 at the Stroud Community House when the program originally planned for February will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Helmes and Miss Bess Gardner.

In February the meeting was cancelled to avoid conflict with the Waring Workshop. Now a revised program dealing with "The Latter Romantics" will be presented.

No March Meeting

The officers of the Ladies Aid society of the Fifth St. Mission announce there will be no meetings of the organization during the month of March. Second Thursday in the month is the regular time for meetings.

Long Distance Wishes For Sgt. Jennings

Delaware Water Gap — Sgt. Carl Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings Sr., of Delaware Water Gap who is now stationed at Fort Scott, Calif., was surprised on his birthday on March 4 when he received a long distance call from his family here.

Sgt. Jennings, a veteran of World War Two, has been in the service during his present term since 1945, and has been stationed in California since this January when returned after 40 months service in Japan.

He told his family that the weather was fine in California, and that he had just signed up for another year of service.

The following local people wished him happy birthday over the telephone: Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings Sr., Mrs. John Jennings Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Durick, Norma, Graydon, Freddie and Jimmie Jennings and William Snow. Two sisters, Janet and Joanne, and a brother, John, were not able to be there to join in the long distance conversation.

Talents Are Invested For Local Church

Shawnee-on-Delaware — The women of the Shawnee Presbyterian church took literally the Biblical injunction to use their talents wisely, and at their meeting on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Staples brought the money which they had, each of them from an original investment of one dollar.

As a matter of fact they went the good servants of the parable one better. Where the servants were able to return ten talents for five, and four talents for two, the women of Shawnee averaged a return of $9 for each $1 they had invested. About twenty-one women reported.

With reports still incomplete, the sum of $185 was presented at the meeting in a ceremony of dedication before a miniature white altar surrounded by white violets. As she presented her gift, each woman described how she had earned it—with cakes, suppers, parties, dressmaking and sewing for others among the many activities.

Mrs. Robert Bradburn, assisted by Mrs. Ross Fuller were in charge of the devotions, and Mrs. John Heller gave the prayer of dedication.

Mrs. Hubert Newton, wife of the pastor of the Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian church, was the guest speaker, telling of her girlhood on an Indian reservation and showing pictures and samples of Indian craft.

Mrs. Fuller was in charge of the business meeting when two new members, Mrs. Harry Wunderly and Mrs. Kenneth Stettler were welcomed. Reports were given by Mrs. Paul Craven, secretary, and Mrs. Willard Stettler, treasurer.

A pancake and sausage supper was planned for Monday, March 31, at the Smithfield School with Mrs. Minard Flor as chairman of the supper committee; Mrs. Walter Hope in charge of publicity; Mrs. John Heller, of tickets and Mrs. Lawton Clapper of waitresses.

The sewing committee, busy making articles for the summer bazaar will meet next Wednesday for an all-day work session at the home of Mrs. Minard Flor, it was announced by Mrs. William Ransberger, chairman of that committee. Members will bring their own box lunches.

Mrs. John Heller, superintendent of the Sunday school, urged the attendance of all members at the Sunday school service this week at 10, when a moving picture, "He Restored My Soul" will be shown. The picture devoted to the work of reconstruction in war-torn countries, will open the "One Great Time of Sharing" which will mark the Lenten season for more than 20 denominations.

The next meeting will be held April 2 at the home of Mrs. Park Unangst with Mrs. Walter Hope as co-hostess.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Staples assisted by Mrs. LeRoy Walter and Mrs. Edward George.

Additional Guests

Additional guests at the party held for Mrs. Nancy Keiper at the home of Miss Olive Patchen on Thursday night were Mrs. Althea Weiss and Mrs. Francis Williams. Sending gifts, though unable to be present were Mrs. Myrtle Marvin, Mrs. Hazel Marvin, Mrs. Marjorie Hunt and Mrs. Phyllis Colvin.

Bible Class Of Effort At Weiss Home

Effort — The Bible study class of the Methodist Sunday school met on Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Weiss. Both the teacher and the substitute were absent because of illness and bad weather conditions.

Miss Alverta Beers was in charge of the song service, which was followed by sentence prayers, and a general discussion of the lesson.

A committee composed of Mrs. John Rinker, Mrs. Paul Sweet, Mrs. Etta Rinker and Miss Alverta Beers were named to take charge of distribution of Easter baskets.

A social followed the meeting when television and refreshments were enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rinker.

"Hi . . . what's all that?" Carrie Rusk demanded yesterday as I sauntered through sportswear carrying a basket.

"Something to make you ask questions," I quipped. "Cards, really, left at the cashier's desk for the lady I mentioned in a column." (There are quite a few things accumulated by this time to be sent her, and we are very grateful.)

"You know," Carrie said, "I think it might be a good idea to print in the column that I need a size 10 costume to wear to the employees' 77th anniversary party on March 28th. What about it?"

Well . . . I can't vow that the result will be just what Carrie hopes. But it might be a good idea to repeat the invitation that went out to the public over the air several days ago—if anyone cares to lend old time clothing of the 1875 period to any Wyckoff employee for use during the three day celebration in April, it would be most sincerely appreciated. Each of you may help your favorite sales person to win a prize at the above-mentioned party, which precedes the anniversary.

I know that two of our salesgirls had offers of antique jewelry immediately after the broadcast. (Those honored by being chosen favorites of the customer making the offer were Laura Fabel, head of the hosiery department, and Sylvia Strunk.)

Come to think of it, instead of beating the drum for Carrie, maybe I should give a thought to something in my size. Now let me see—what will I wear?

I guess everyone is anxious for spring to make its appearance. I noticed yesterday that Marion Leedom had practically turned the center aisle into a garden with her colorful display of artificial floral pieces. Lizzie Koch's first floor Hat Bar is another bright spot with its dozens of gaily colored hats . . . orchid, blue, pink, and Roman stripes. Oh, spring is bustin' out all over—and everyone is looking through rose colored glasses.

LIGHTS, ACTION, CAMERA

Walky-Talky-Looky weighs 35 pounds, has range of a mile.

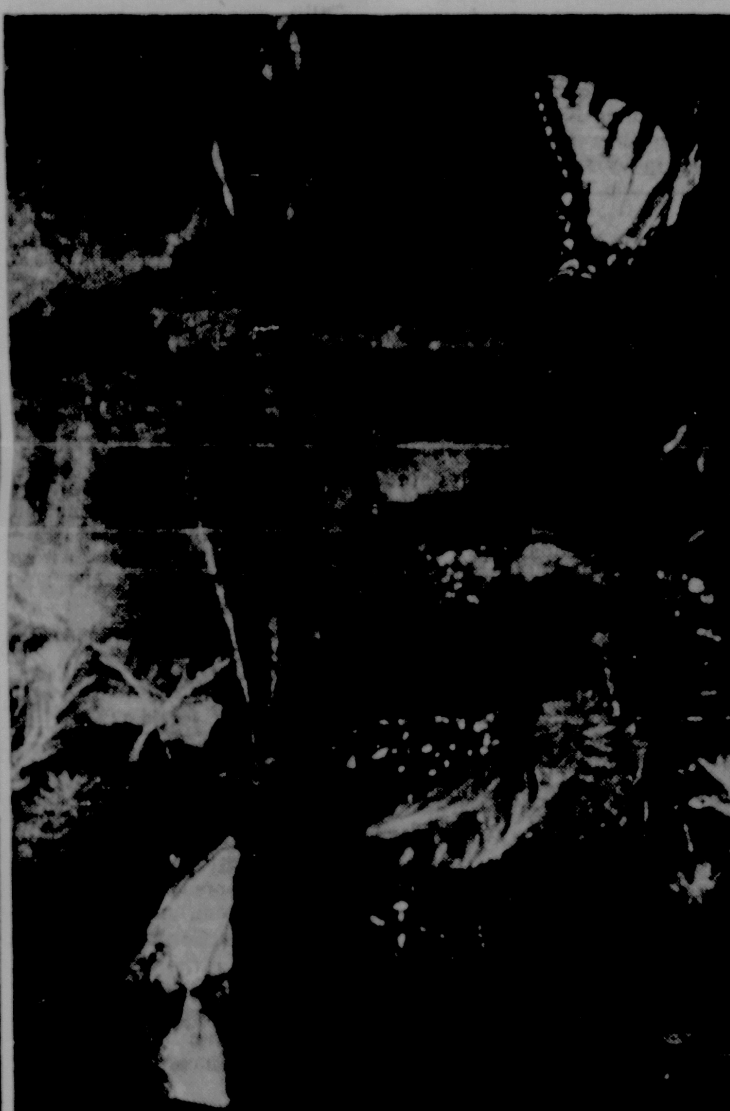

WHEN Democratic and Republican delegates convene in Chicago this year to pick presidential candidates, the prying ears and eyes of radio and television will follow nearly every move. The networks are making preparations for the most intensive coverage of any event in history. To aid the viewers, a new portable TV camera has been developed to follow the delegates into the lobbies, hallways and smoke-filled hotel rooms as they form party strategy. The device is called a Walky-Talky-Looky. NBC and CBS reportedly will spend more than $3 million and other networks are getting ready to bring the convention to an audience of nearly 100 million. Each network will put mobile radio and TV units on the streets for outside pick-ups. In support of the main characters, a behind-the-scenes cast of reporters, cameramen, artists, writers, film librarians, editors, technicians and make-up men will do their part to give the folks at home a front-row seat in this exciting political "show."

Mobile television units like this one will roam Chicago streets to pick up outside events.

South Korea Plagued By Rising Prices

By Dr. Robert T. Oliver
Pennsylvania State College

During the past eight months of truce talks South Korea has suffered little additional devastation. Hurting worse than anything else is their problem of inflation.

Stocks of consumer goods have been largely destroyed. Disaster increased the need for food, clothing, shelter, while diminishing the supply. Productivity has been reduced.

One consequence is a terrific increase in prices. Everything Koreans must buy has on the average multiplied in price about 30 times since start of the war.

But for Korean government efforts, the price spiral would have been much greater and inflation might have gone out of control.

In March, 1951, the Korean government decided to live within its budget regardless of war demands. The cabinet decided no more money would be spent in any month than was taken in as taxes the previous month.

The policy made it impossible to give adequate care for the orphans in the 200 orphanages or the refugees in 1,728 refugee camps. . . Impossible to provide leather shoes or a sound diet for Korean soldiers at the front, or more than a pittance for government employees.

But by these methods the government has kept the national budget balanced every single month since March, a year ago.

But prices have increased steadily for every household need. One reason is that our own military command has refused to cooperate with the Korean government to check inflation.

So far the United Command has borrowed a total 269 billion won (Korean unit of currency), which is 59 per cent of all the currency now in circulation. The won borrowed goes back into the Korean market as payment for labor and supplies. It continues to increase the won in circulation at a rate of more than 40 billion won a month.

The Korean government has asked a month-by-month repayment of this loan in supplies or American money which could purchase supplies. The supplies then could be sold to Korean people and the won paid for it withdrawn from circulation.

President Syngman Rhee and his minister of finance see this as the only means of reducing the won in circulation and halting the disastrous monthly increase. So far, however, the plea for repayment has been met with "The American Congress will never consent to repay the loan while the U. S. is giving so much freely to help Korea."

But so far Congress has not been asked to act on the question. Meanwhile, as decision is delayed, the inflation problem becomes monthly more difficult.

The United Nations has taken few steps to keep its promise of restoring war-ravaged factories and cities in Korea.

Total estimates of war damage have ranged from eight billion (probably conservative) down to two billion dollars—which is less than enough to rebuild Seoul alone.

The job was to be begun with $250 million, of which the U. S. promised $169 million. That was for the first year of operations of the U. N. Korean Rehabilitation Agency (UNKRA) established in December, 1950.

So far the only money actually appropriated and made available has been 10 million dollars appropriated by Canada. Even this sum was not used for reconstruction, but to establish and staff UNKRA offices in Washington, Lake Success, Geneva, Tokyo and Pusan.

The UNKRA program remains in "the planning stage" thus far or two reasons: One—Korea remains a theater of war under complete military control—no transportation or other facilities may be used for civilian reconstruction;

Two—Governments which have rounded help have not appropriated the necessary funds—saying that reconstruction must wait until the war ends.

But the eight million Koreans who have lost their homes, and other millions who have lost their jobs and means of livelihood cannot postpone their needs for sustenance until a war settlement is reached.

It's Impossible To Think Of Paris Without Seine, With Its Ponts And Quays

Paris—The river Seine flows not only through Paris as its main artery, but through one's very subconsciousness. It is not possible to think of Paris without the Seine—the law, the church, science and art housed in massive buildings centuries old on the left bank, and business, residences, embassies, fine hotels and the Arc de Triomphe on the right bank.

F. E. Truscott Honored By Alumni Group

Frank E. Truscott, a native of East Stroudsburg, for many years a resident of Philadelphia, where he formerly served as city solicitor, was honored last night by the Philadelphia Alumni association of Lafayette College, Easton, at the 31st annual dinner of the organization, held at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, Philadelphia.

Mr. Truscott was honored for his work in behalf of the college, where he was graduated in 1917. He is a trustee of the Lafayette Alumni Research Foundation and has been active in the alumni groups for a number of years. Mr. Truscott was graduated from East Stroudsburg High school.

Among the speakers was Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison, president of the college and Steve M. Hokuf, new football coach at the college.

The meeting of the Home Extension group was held at Dot Albert's home when several finished their pocketbooks. Miss Margaret MacLaren directs the work. Miss Mary Gunn and Mrs. Edward Gunn were also present. The next meeting will also be at Dot's home on Mar. 13.

Sunday callers on the Thomas Carsons were Ruth and Purdy Carson and Helen and Norman Dennis. Young Tom has been in bed for nearly a week with a very severe cold.

Friday was Men's Day at the Earl Erdmans when Harry Gangware, "Shorty" Campbell, Sheldon Schobert and several others came to call.

Irene and Kenneth Schmid went over to Bangor Sunday night to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid. Recovering from colds are Mrs. Sheldon Schobert, Mrs. Beckley and Mrs. Schmidt.

Also much better after a poor week is Mrs. Edward Fellenner. Sunday callers at the Fellenner home were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kemmerer, David Schoonover, Laura Mae Hall, of Stroudsburg; Robert and Glenn Hester of Richmond, Pa.; Evan Jones of Philadelphia; Robert Staples, and Dr. and Mrs. Roman Batory. The Fellenner and Dietrichs are redecorating a great part of the interior of their lovely home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietrich and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Warsel of Washington, N. J., spent an enjoyable Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. William Kostenbader of Saylorsburg.

Surprise move of the month was when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Getz moved into the former Kemmerer home in Stormsville last week.

Farmers actually produced 85 per cent of the normal food crop this past season. Taelon (where General Dean was lost) is more than half restored. With salvage materials from wrecked buildings, much has been achieved.

Carlos Fallon

Carlos Fallon To Appear As Guest Speaker

Members of the Stroudsburg Dutch Treat club will hear an address Wednesday, March 12 by Carlos Fallon, a specialist on hemispheric relations.

Fallon is currently carrying on a tradition which began with his great-grandfather Don Augustin Codazzi, the man who graphed the first maps of Colombia, Venezuela, Panama and other Latin-American countries.

The Fallon name has long been associated with Colombian nationalism and, since the advent of Carlos' father who served as a consul to the United States, the "good neighbor policy."

In 1943, following a successful lecture tour in this country, Fallon volunteered for service as a private in the U. S. Air Force. He was sent to OCS and emerged from the war with the rank of captain in the intelligence division.

Fallon's first book "A Variety of Fallon" was published in 1950 and was accorded enthusiastic critical acclaim.

Mr. and Mrs. William Halterman, Jr., visited relatives in Merchantville, N. J., recently.

Mrs. Max Hess and her sister, Miss Mabel E. Way, Mrs. Ernest Cramer and Mrs. Chester VanVleet were shopping in Stroudsburg on Friday and attended the Leap Year Party held at Wyckoff's.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Van Vleet on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cramer and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bush and family.

The Scout troops which planned to organize in Analomink report good progress with their meetings. The boys and girls of the area are showing a keen interest. Mrs. Thomas Bennett and Mrs. Wick are the den mothers of the Cub Scouts, which includes boys from the ages of 8 to 11. Mr. Clair Metzgar is the Cub Master.

The Boy Scout Troop is under the leadership of Mrs. John Dedeker, and takes in boys between the ages of 11 and 14. There are nine boys in the troop so far, the names of which are not available, at this time. The boy scouts meet at the schoolhouse every Wednesday evening between 7 P. M. and 8:30 P. M.

The boys who have joined the pack so far are: Zandee Wick, John Featherman, Samuel Strunk, Vinton Treibell, Theodore Burch and John Pennell.

Elks To Honor Joseph Small, Exalted Ruler

Plans for the "Joe Small night", honoring the present exalted ruler, who completes his term April 1, were announced at the meeting of East Stroudsburg lodge of Elks this week. The highlight will be the dance, music for which will be furnished by Jimmy Smith's national broadcasting band.

Nominations of officers for the coming year were made at this week's meeting. These will remain open until Thursday night, March 20, at which time the celebration will take place.

Russell Scheller, chairman of the blood donor campaign of the lodge, expressed his appreciation of an assistance given for the recent visit of the bloodmobile when 216 pints were given, and, especially to one member who secured 125 signatures of volunteers. The lodge goal of 500 pints, he said, extends until July.

One candidate was favorably voted on for initiation and one for reinstatement.

The 75 members in attendance were shown moving pictures at the close of the meeting and were served lunch by Floyd Lambert, the steward.

M. S. Rutt, chairman of the entertainment committee, said the picture "The Kings of the Ring" would be shown at the next meeting, April 3, the pictures of the soap box derby held at Akron, O., will be shown.

Tannersville

The Woman's Guild of the Grace Reformed Church met at the church on Monday night, the 3rd, at which time there was no regular business meeting, but the members cut wool patches for the quilt being made ready. Mrs. Margaret Tallada was the hostess for the evening. The group will meet at the same place on Friday evening, the 7th, to proceed with this quilting work.

On Sunday afternoon, the 2nd, M. N. Warner of Reeders, Mrs. Rufus Luckey, E. Stroudsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Gerhard and Edward W. Gerhard, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis with son Bud, called on Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Heckman, at Swiftwater, which occasion all hands much enjoyed.

The workers meeting of the Grace Reformed church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gerhard on Tuesday night.

The two young children of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martinell, Scotrun, have been absent from school because of illness for several days.

Officers from various Granges in this section of the State met with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Teachman, on Monday night, Mar. 3, at Pocomo Grange 1415. Refreshments were served by the host Grange.

Material for the new roof on the Grange Hall has been delivered and, as soon as the weather permits, the work on same will go forward.

On Monday, Mar. 10, several members of Grange 1415 will meet to rehearse a skit to be put on at the Fruit Tribute meeting on March 14.

The Parent Teachers association of Pocomo Township School will meet on Wednesday night, March 12.

The Altar and Rosary society of Our Lady of Victory church will meet on Thursday night, Mar. 13, when the men will be their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Mooney, notwithstanding very bad traveling conditions, drove to Kellersville on Monday night to attend a meeting at the Hamilton Grange. Same was also attended by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seidof, from the Cherry Valley Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Teachman from Mt. Prospect Grange, also Miss Jean Tornetta from Mt. Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Laubscher, of the Gifford Pinchot Grange. During a social hour, Mr. Teachman played the piano, another visitor called off a square dance which was enjoyed by the participants. Mr. Hobbs procured coffee and cookies from a nearby diner, as due to the weather, their regular hostesses could not reach the hall with the treat they had prepared.

The women of St. Paul's Lutheran church met as usual on Wednesday to work on the beautiful appliqued dogwood quilt they are finishing for Pearl Hay. Those who assisted this week included Viola and Gertrude Learn, Leola Nye, Lulu Walters, Ethel Hill, Nettie Bishop, Nellie Mosteller, Nita Butz, Cora Shook, Mary Singer, Pearl Hay and one visitor, Mrs. Bensley. Several treats were enjoyed during the lunch interval—peach pies baked by the Learns, home-made doughnuts by Cora Shook and home-baked spice cake by Nita Butz.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kresge, Jr., are spending a couple of weeks of Mr. Kresge's furlough in Florida.

Mrs. Mabel Musselman, Stroudsburg, spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Shook.

The Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge met in regular session on Wednesday evening, the 5th, when various officers were elected, who will be installed in April. Members were asked to send cards to Mrs. Mollie Yarbrough, at the General Hospital, and Mrs. Elmer Munch, at home. A donated loaf of rye bread was sold for $2.85, proceeds for the Home for the Aged. The next meeting of this Lodge will be Wednesday evening, March 19.

Lions Plan Program For Charter Night

Bill Deihl's orchestra will provide music for the annual Charter night ball of the Stroudsburg Lions club to be held at the Penn-Stroud hotel on Friday night, March 21, according to an announcement made yesterday by Seymour Katz, chairman of the banquet committee. Dancing will follow the annual dinner and entertainment.

Chairman Katz also announced that one of the main entertainment features will be provided by Ernie Mack, known as the man of a thousand faces. He will present for the entertainment of the Lions and their ladies a number of the impersonations that have made him famous. His numbers include historic personages, famous fictional faces and others.

Chairman Katz has also arranged for numbers by a famed female singer.

The main feature will be an address by third vice president of Lions International, Montie Nute of Kennett Square. Nute was elected to his present position at the international convention at Atlantic City last year and is slated to ultimately hold the position of international president.

Former Local Man Arrested

Francis M. Coyne, 21, of Easton, formerly of Stroudsburg, was arrested on a burglary charge in Easton this week and lodged in jail. Bail was to be set.

He was charged with stealing a vacuum cleaner and a bag containing $3 in pennies from the parked car of Habo George, of Easton.

Police said the stolen loot was found in Coyne's room. Coyne was employed as a short order cook in an Easton restaurant.

Kansas is named after a Sioux Indian tribe, "the people of the south wind."

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Coach Sam Russell and several members of the Stroudsburg High school basketball team during the past campaign were on hand for Thursday's District 11 PIAA play-off tussle between Catawauqua and Wilson Borough, with the Rough Riders running wild over their cousins from the Lehigh-Northampton League, 79-38. Catty also owns a pair of favorable decisions over Stroudsburg this season, while compiling an undefeated Lehigh Valley League basketball record.

Jack Kist, football and baseball coach and athletic director at East Stroudsburg High school, has been unable to attend school for the past three days, because of a virus attack. John Kimock, an ESSTC graduate, and Al Capobianco, Honesdale, are on the list of varsity basketball officials being studied by coaches in the Lehigh Valley League at the present time. Walter "Harpo" Marks, a member of the ESSTC cage machine two years ago, is seeking approval as a junior varsity basketball official in the same circuit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lits, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Werkheiser, Jean Newhart, Horace Johnson, Gail "Doc" Fegley and John "Whitey" Zurner are only a few of the local people scheduled to take in the first round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight. Fegley, who rolled up 20 points in his last outing with the Y's Men on the Monroe County YMCA court, is going back next week on Monday and Thursday of next week, after seeing a pro doubleheader on the same court last Tuesday. This man really likes his basketball—not to mention baseball, softball and football.

George DeLong, likeable pole vaulter at ESSTC, is hopeful that the new 16-foot pole purchased by the school will allow him to better the new school mark he set for the event last spring. Ronnie Kump, who won 11 and lost five games for Lebanon, in the North Atlantic League in 1950, has been signed by the Allentown entry in the class "B" Inter-State League for the coming campaign. Kump, who was out of baseball last year, had a 2.96 earned run average in his last season with Lebanon.

ESSTC may have to face Joe Petcavage, Carbondale's high scoring scholastic cager, when the Warriors face the University of Scranton on the basketball court in the future. Petcavage is reportedly on his way to Scranton following graduation from Benjamin Franklin High in June. Ray Steele, basketball and baseball star at East Stroudsburg High school, is to be honored as the youth of the month in East Stroudsburg by the Exchange Club, at the Presbyterian Church in that borough.

Jack Daniels, who held down an outfield post with Hartford, of the class "A" Eastern league last season, is getting his second shot at winning a position with the Boston Braves this year. Daniels received his start in professional baseball with Bloomington, N. J., when that club was a member of the North Atlantic league in 1946. If Daniels makes the grade this season, it will bring the total of Bloomington graduates to make the major leagues to four, Jim Lemon, Cleveland; Carl Sawatski, Cubs; and Dan O'Connell, Pirates, are the three to make the grade before Daniels, but all are now in the Army.

Manuel "Toto" Alves number one booster of the New York Yankees and Bethlehem High at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is walking on air today, following Bethlehem's victory over Allentown last night, which gave the winning contingent the 1951-1952 East Penn league title. Sal Diffe, of the same school, also has the victory gleam today, although if this writer remembers correctly, Sal changed horses in the middle of the stream somewhere along the line. "Moto" must be doing a good job of swaying the ESSTC enrollment toward his favorite clubs.

A meeting of the Pocono Mountains Basketball league will probably be held during the early portion of the coming week, at which time plans for the post-season playoffs will be discussed. Ken James, Catawauqua cage star was unable to take his rightful place in the starting lineup against Wilson Borough Thursday, due to an injury that occurred during minutes before in the dressing room at Rockne Hall.

James was in the process of leaving the dressing room when he was hit in the face accidentally with a closing door. The door made a deep cut in James' forehead, which required attention immediately. However, as soon as the damage was repaired James made his way to the court and was sent into the game almost immediately. As in baseball, much of the action in basketball takes place in the dressing room.

Large Crowd Attends Gym Exhibition

A sizeable crowd watched the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College gym team put on its annual home exhibition in the Normal Hill gymnasium last night, and thrilled to the near-perfect coordination of 21 experts on mats, spring board and other equipment common to an exhibition of gymnastics.

The program opened with a free hand drill for both men and women and the second event on the agenda featured an exhibition of tumbling.

Clowns on mats followed and a modern dance routine was the fourth number to be held.

A springboard drill with the Swedish box was well received as the fifth number on the program. Lighted clubs, tap dance, boys tumbling, Indian clubs, parallel bars, clowns on parallel bars and silver wires also added their share to make the annual program a success.

Four members of the team were unable to compete because of injuries.

The ESSTC gym organization is coached by Oscar J. Liljenstein, athletic director, who in turn is assisted by Miss Mary Whitenight, a member of the physical education staff.

Goldston Signs With Eagles

Philadelphia, (AP)—Ralph Goldston, 190-pound running and passing halfback from Youngstown (O.) College, signed a contract with the Philadelphia Eagles yesterday—the first Negro to join the Pro-Football club.

First Choice
Johnny Bright of Drake University was the Eagle's number one draft choice for the 1952 season. But Goldston, selected tenth, beat the more celebrated Bright to the punch by signing up early. Bright last night signed with Calgary, of the Western Inter-Provincial Union.

Goldston was one of the nation's top small college stars in the last two years and shone as a sprinter on the track teams.

Young Gains Decision Over Durando In Garden

New York (AP)—Rocked four times in the first round by Ernie Durando's booming right, lion-hearted Paddy Young blazed back with a bell to bell attack the rest of the way to decisively outpoint the Bayonne (N. J.) Bomber in the main ten rounder at Madison Square Garden last night. The victory earned the New Yorker a title shot at middleweight champion Ray Robinson. Young weighed 159, Durando 157 1/2.

It looked like curtains for 23-year-old Paddy at the 40 second mark of the spectacular first heat when the swarthy, 35-year-old Durando nailed him on the jaw with a smashing right. But Paddy shook the blow off, and did it three more times in the frame. In perfect condition Young

Seminick Looking Forward To Good Season With Cincinnati

By Jack Hand

Tampa, Fla., (AP)—Baldish Andy Seminick—old blood and guts of the Phillies since 1943—expects to take a new lease on life in a Cincinnati uniform.

The seven-man swap that sent Seminick to the Reds last December came as no surprise to the 31-year-old catcher.

"They had to make some changes," he said. "After our flop last year, they couldn't go with the same club. It was a lot of fun working with those kids. But I leave with no regrets."

"Everything was fine between me and the Phillies front office. But sometimes a change is a good thing. It looks like we're going to have a pretty good ball club in Cincinnati."

Seminick would like to forget the gruesome details of the 1951 season—both personally and as a member of the 1950 champs who tumbled to fifth place.

Andy's troubles actually started late in '50 when he was injured at the Polo Grounds in a home plate collision with Monte Irvin of the Giants. Although Seminick returned to the lineup and caught the World Series, it developed later he had broken a bone in his ankle.

For many weeks he hobbled around on crutches. Last spring he still wore an ankle brace. Not until May 10 did he dare take it off.

Reamed
On June 15 a fast ball thrown by Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals smacked Seminick over the left ear. He was wearing no protector in his cap. They carried Andy to a hospital but discharged him after a one-day stay.

"Four or five days later I went up to hit and things started to whirl around," said Seminick. "I told Skip I just couldn't make it. They took me back to the hospital and found my heart beat was down to 38."

"When I started to play I got dizzy spells. They kept up all season. Every time I'd run hard or shake my head quick, I'd get the pains."

During the winter, Seminick had a thorough physical exam. They gave him the go ahead on regular workouts. Then he was traded to Cincinnati.

"The Reds will give them all a lot of trouble, too," he said. "We've got Blackwell, Raffensberger, Hiller and Wehmeier. And that big Klusowski has got to be better."

So far Seminick had had no return of the dizzy spells of last summer.

Warriors Entertain Wilkes

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will attempt to end the 1951-1952 basketball season on a winning note today, when the charges of Coach Ed Shay entertain Wilkes College, on the Normal Hill hardwood, at 8:15 p.m. The Warriors will also be anxious to improve on the present record of four victories and 13 setbacks.

One of the 13 reversals was inflicted by this same Wilkes club early in the campaign, 68-64, on the Wilkes-Barre school's home court. Wilkes put on a brilliant display of foul shooting that night, with a perfect mark of 24-for-24 from the charity stripe.

Break Streak
The Shymen will be also striving to end a losing streak that

So far Seminick had had no return of the dizzy spells of last summer.

Reamed
On June 15 a fast ball thrown by Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals smacked Seminick over the left ear. He was wearing no protector in his cap. They carried Andy to a hospital but discharged him after a one-day stay.

"Four or five days later I went up to hit and things started to whirl around," said Seminick. "I told Skip I just couldn't make it. They took me back to the hospital and found my heart beat was down to 38."

"When I started to play I got dizzy spells. They kept up all season. Every time I'd run hard or shake my head quick, I'd get the pains."

During the winter, Seminick had a thorough physical exam. They gave him the go ahead on regular workouts. Then he was traded to Cincinnati.

"The Reds will give them all a lot of trouble, too," he said. "We've got Blackwell, Raffensberger, Hiller and Wehmeier. And that big Klusowski has got to be better."

Greene-Dreher Rolls Over Damascus

Hawley — Greene-Dreher-Sterling, in search of its fifth consecutive victory in the twenty-fifth annual Hawley-Lake Wallenpaupack Chamber of Commerce basketball tournament, last night won its quarter-final round game from Damascus, 62-43.

Greene-Dreher, paced by a pair of "Jumping Jacks," Barry and Davis, took over command of the game in the first period and held the upper hand throughout, although Damascus held the edge during the final round.

The Stags, under the guidance of Coach Henry "Hank" Arneberg, held a 15-9 advantage at the end of the first period and improved the situation at halftime, 32-17, after the Greene-Dreher club dominated the second round, 17-3.

Same Story
It was Greene-Dreher again in the third period, 21-14, and the Stags' 53-31 lead at this point stood up in the face of a 12-9 scoring edge for Damascus, coached by Carl Bell, in the final quarter.

Greene-Dreher had a good night from the foul line, making 20 of 21 charity tosses, while Damascus came through with 13 of 26 shots from the same distance.

Davis and Barry tallied 13 and 14 points respectively in a winning cause, while Gene Bruckner and BBI Bjorn, with 13 and 17 markers each, paced the losing attack.

Hawley won the second half of the opening night doubleheader, taking the measure of Milford, 54-30, as the Milford club was held to 11 points in the second half, two in the third period.

Plans For Tourney Listed

Application blanks for the annual Gold Medal Basketball Tournament held at the Monroe County YMCA may be secured at the YMCA on Monday, it was announced last night by George Metropoulos, athletic director at the Y.

As in the past the tournament will feature two divisions of play, with trophies and various individual awards to be presented in both divisions.

Regulations
The junior division includes all Monroe County high schools, with the exception of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, or local high school students who haven't played varsity basketball during the past campaign.

Teams in the senior division may be composed of varsity performers from Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools, or players of above school age.

No dates have been announced for the tournament.

Inspector To Seek Suspension

Syracuse, (AP)—State boxing inspector Edward Leonard said yesterday he would recommend a fine and 30-day suspension for Robert Villamein's handlers who, he claimed, interfered with a physician's examination of the boxer during a bout Thursday night with Joey DeJohn.

Villamein was floored for a nine count in the fourth round but came back to knock out the Syracuse middleweight in the ninth.

Request
Leonard said that after the fourth round referee Ed Risko asked for a doctor to examine a cut under Villamein's right eye.

The inspector said that George Kantor and Jean Bretonnell, Villamein's handlers, brushed Dr. Arthur A. Vercillo aside when he entered the ring.

Eastburg Little League To Operate With Same Officials

Carl "Phiz" Nauman last night was reelected president of the East Stroudsburg Little League, at a circuit meeting at Paul Lloyd's tax office, in the Finner building. In addition to Nauman, the entire slate of 1951 officials were given the green light to assume the same duties for the 1952 campaign.

Gordon Coy will serve once again as vice president; Cliff Lambert, treasurer; Harry Howell, secretary, and Paul Lloyd, financial chairman.

Plans for the coming campaign were thoroughly discussed and it was decided to feature a minor league this season, for the youngsters who are unable to win a position on the four clubs in the official Little League. The minor circuit will also play a regular schedule and in every way be carried out in the same manner as the Little League.

It was also decided to carry out another fund raising campaign this year, with Paul Delaria serving as chairman of the committee behind this venture.

The East Stroudsburg Little League field will be completed within a month, it was announced at the meeting, and the group attending the business session also agreed to hold another kickoff banquet, to be held at a date to be announced later.

Middlecoff Takes Over Front Spot In St. Petersburg Open

St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP)—An almost flawless 65, seven strokes under par for the sandy Lakewood golf course, catapulted Cary Middlecoff of Memphis into the lead yesterday in the $10,000 St. Petersburg open.

This performance, after his 68 in Thursday's opening round, gave the one-time Tennessee tooth puller a total of 133, that gave him a stroke margin over Jack Burke Jr., of Houston, Texas, and big Al Bessellink of Chicago.

Middlecoff, who ended the first 18 hole round in sixth position, two strokes behind the leaders, vaulted to the front yesterday with a near perfect game. He left a trail of eight birdies over the 6,233-yard Lakewood layout.

Good Golf
He was a stroke over par at the seventh, where he needed three putts, but he made the nine hole turn three under par with a 33. Only one other time all days did he fire a bad shot, and lady luck came to his rescue on that occasion.

At the fifteenth Middlecoff over-shot the green and the ball set sail for a spot deep in the rough. But it struck a spectator's chair and bounced back, and by sinking a 20-foot putt he was able to escape with a par four.

Middlecoff's round yesterday put him in position to break Burke's three-tournament winning streak and gain ground in the race for top money winning honors on the winter circuit.

McCoy Paces Farrell To Win

Pittsburgh (AP)—With star forward Julius McCoy dumping in 19 points to lead the way, the defending class "A" championship Farrell basketball team had no trouble at all last night beating North Union 60-36 in a quarter final game of the annual Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League tournament.

Early Lead
A crowd of 3,541 at Pitt Field house saw McCoy score two field goals and a foul to give Farrell a 5-0 lead. Three other players quickly made field goals and McCoy came through with a foul shot to give the Mercer county outfit a 12-0 lead before North Union could score.

Farrell was ahead 32-13 at the half and coasted the rest of the way, although outscored 16-14 in the third period.

Stengel Releases Plans
St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP)—Gil McDougald, the American League rookie of the year in 1951, will not be asked to alternate at two positions this year if Manager Casey Stengel's plans work out. The New York Yankees boss said yesterday he hopes to keep McDougald at second base exclusively, with Billy Martin or Andy Carey at third.

Giants Meet Indians
Phoenix, Ariz., (AP)—The New York Giants wound up 19 straight days of practice yesterday and prepared to open this cactus league campaign against the Cleveland Indians in Tucson today.

Manager Leo Durocher named Sheldon Jones, Roger Bowman and Al Corwin as his pitchers, each to go three innings.

Call, Miller Pace Attack For Hurricanes

Hershey—Bethlehem High rebounded from Tuesday's defeat at the hands of Allentown last night to win the East Penn league championship, 52-44, here at the Sports Arena, before a standing room only crowd. The Hurricanes made a comfortable three-quarter lead stand up in the face of a mild rally by the Canaries during the final eight minutes of action.

Bobby Gall paced the Bethlehem attack during the first period by the Hurricanes picked up 16 quick points, while Allentown was held to eight markers during the same period.

However, Allentown came roaring back in the second stanza to pull to within three points of the Hurricanes, before Gall and Billy Miller found the range once again and lifted the first half champs into a 34-24 lead at the halfway mark, with an 18-16 edge during the second round.

Miller opened the second-half scoring with a field goal in the early seconds of the third quarter, and Bethlehem brought the huge crowd to its feet by moving into a "deep freeze", which lasted approximately three minutes.

Tactics Change
However, Allentown intercepted three passes and scored as many field goals while the Hurricanes were attempting to freeze the ball. Bethlehem came out of its control antics and once again moved back in front in the scoring 11-10 at the end of the third eight-minute session, to leading 45-34.

Although Allentown came back to dominate the third round, 10-7, the hand writing was on the wall early in the period.

Allentown made eight of 16 foul shots, while Bethlehem came through on eight of 12 attempts from the same distance.

Gall paced the Bethlehem attack with 17 points, 11 in the first half and six in the second half. LeRoy Katz, who fouled out of the game with six minutes remaining in the final period, led the Allentown attack with 20 points, nine field

Ski Meet Slated For Split Rock

Split Rock—At least 35 skiers from Philadelphia and suburbs, will take part in the Wilburger Trophy ski meet here tomorrow, at 10 a. m. Both men and women will see action in the various events to be held on the famed Big Boulder slopes.

Both slalom and down hill events will be held for men and women and if enough entries are on hand, a special cross country event will be held following the regularly scheduled slalom and down hill events.

The entire meet is expected to be completed during the morning hours.

Reports last night indicated that 25 men and ten women would be in the field tomorrow. The meet is being sponsored by the Martin Wilburger Sporting Goods Co. of Philadelphia.

Snow conditions here are listed as good, with four inches of packed surface on a four-inch base.

Good snow conditions were also reported in other sections of the Pocono Mountains last night. Namey at Skytop, Pocono Manor, Big Pocono and Skyline Inn.

Fair conditions are listed at Buck Hill Falls and Onawa Lodge.

Millersville Paces Field

Lock Haven (P) — Millersville State Teachers College opened the defense of its Pennsylvania Teachers College Wrestling title by advancing seven men in preliminary and semi-final bouts here yesterday.

Lock Haven and West Chester each advanced five men in the tenth annual championship meet. Indiana moved up four and Edinboro one.

Millersville and West Chester are tied in points for falls with four each. Indiana has one.

Six remaining semi-final bouts will begin today at 2 p. m., and finals and consolation will get under way at 9 p. m.

Millersville's four defending champions, John Meys, 137 pounds; Bob Brown, 175; George Doherty, 167, and Tom Waters, heavyweight, still are in the running.

Charles Weber, West Chester's 177 pound champion last year, is in the running for Waters' heavyweight title.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College didn't enter a team in the state meet this year.

Seeded Favorites In Role Of Spectators As National Invitation Tournament Opens Today

By Will Grimsley

New York (P)—Seeded favorites sit back and watch tonight while other guests crack open the National Invitation Basketball Tournament with a triple-header at Madison Square Garden.

The 12 competing teams will be spurred by a special incentive this year. The winner automatically qualifies for the olympic trials here March 29.

Two hotshots from the Blue Grass territory—Western Kentucky (25-4) and Louisville (20-5)—bring a backyard feud up north for the opening game at 6 p. m.

Although they reside only a few hours' ride apart, these two titans—along with top-ranked Kentucky, which completes the state's basketball "big three"—meticulously takes pains not to play each other during the regular season.

Three eastern powers and a little giant from the middle west complete the opening night's card.

Second Game

Seton Hall (25-2) and LaSalle (20-5) tangle in the second game at 7:45 p. m. Dayton (24-3) and erratic New York University (17-6) close out the bill at 9:30.

The four top-seeded contenders—Duquesne, St. Louis, St. Bonaventure and St. John's, in that order—drew first round byes and don't swing into action until the first of next week.

Two of them take part in another tripleheader Monday, along with Seattle and Holy Cross, who lay over with a first round game.

St. Bonaventure will meet the Louisville-Western winner and St. John's will tackle the Seton Hall-LaSalle survivor.

Tuesday night St. Louis, fifth ranked nationally, plays the Dayton-NYU victor while top-seeded Duquesne, number four nationally, engages the winner of the Seattle-Holy Cross conflict.

Two old NIT favorites—lowering Walt Dukes of Seton Hall, and nimble Don Meineke of Dayton—will add luster to the opening night's bill.

Dukes at six-foot-11 is the tallest center in the tournament and his particular problem for the evening is Tom Gola. LaSalle's scintillating six-six freshman who has averaged better than 17 points a game.

Meineke brings one of the nation's best individual offensive records into the tournament. Twelfth best nationally, he has scored 550 points and averaged 21.2 points a game. He is six-seven and has a hook shot that is almost impossible to guard.

He probably will be paired against Boris Nachamkin, NYU's six-six sophomore.

ESSTC Host To Temple Girls

Temple University will provide the opposition today, as the girls of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College bring down the curtain on the 1952 campaign, as the Warriors' play host to the Owlettes, at 11:30 a. m., on the Normal Hill hardwood.

Coach Genevieve Zimbar is expected to open the contest with an ESSTC lineup of Jane Moffet, Joan Givens and Carol Mosser in the forward section, while Grace Asberry, Joan Lythgoe and Doris Zerby man the guard positions.

The Warriors' will take a record of two victories and the same number of setbacks into today's encounter, and will be out to finish with one more win than defeats for the present campaign.

ESSTC took the measure of Temple last year, 41-40, in Philadelphia.

The game was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but Temple was unable to make the trip because of a snow storm which hit eastern Pennsylvania.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Some inauspicious leanings. Hold steady; be aware that you have ability, and use it. You can make forward movement, but mind subtle caution. Avoid unnecessary strenuous effort.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Uncertainty and doubts beset you, both of which help make the "spice of life." Take care in new ventures. There may be an upset, or change of plans needed. Stay on the same side.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Likely to be wholly satisfactory without leads, indications. And if not shrewd, thoughtful in management, could err. Fresh bent towards marriage.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Keep alert, out of ruts and mistakes, keep heeding day. Once caught in the orbit of recklessness it may be hard to extricate self. Forewarned is forearmed. Shun disputes, differences.

July 21 to August 22 (Leo)—Mind, sensitive, discerning, ready for things, especially problems dealing in human relations. Don't neglect personal matters and health for outside interests.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Make the most of any encouraging situations. Buckle down, work hard; get early start and hold disconcerting over-kill. Better future for the striving. Axiom: Sufferer's patience.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—May be exciting; it can be productive in many ways. And it may be dull, just so-so at periods. You are the keynote, much will revolve around how you react and what you do.

October 23 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Unresponsive in spots. Stormy outlook for some business and personal affairs. Be calm in manner, philosophical; give good example.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Excellent considerations; encouraging day. Make the most of all. Work, professional affairs, business generally can advance. Heart interests also favored.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Help make and keep it a productive, happy day. It things are due, thank God, if not, offer them as sacrifices. Everyone must cooperate; give as well as take, for happiness.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Some uncontrollable—obstacles, contentions. Most people don't want to bend a knee, nor have heartaches either, but we all must—at times. Display your natural notions and wit.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Good day for business and personal matters. Be ready, alerted for the unusual. Take advantage of good openings; some may come unexpectedly and in peculiar ways. Be wide-awake.

YOU BORN TODAY: Generally tempered with a quiet calm which gives you the advantage over the more nervous, busy person, and is the forerunner to a successful future. You appreciate originality, too. Try new ideas, yours or others', occasionally. Concentrate on one, you may bring it to high success. Many writers, business managers, teachers under this sign. Don't anticipate trouble, don't fret. Birthdate of many brilliant Pisces personalities.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 1. The result is your number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. The word the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Homemaking Entries To Be Exhibited

The educational exhibit, featuring the work of students from schools in the Monroe-Northampton-Wayne area will be held at Wyckoff-Sears store in Stroudsburg on March 13, 14 and 15.

One of the highlights of the exhibit will be the fashion show to be held in the tea room on March 15 during the dinner hour at 6:30 p. m. and again at 7:30.

Wyckoff-Sears is donating prizes in the amount of $250 with a special $5 award by the Stroudsburg Women's club for the best made dress in the show. The Daily Record will present an orchid for the most "chic" costume.

Judges for the event are Mrs. Dorothy Dixon, Scranton; Miss Elizabeth Baxter, Towanda and Mrs. Lena Slaboski, Stroudsburg.

A total of 366 entries have been received for the fashion show from 13 schools in the three-county area.

The following schools are represented currently in the show's catalog. The homemaking teacher at each school is listed with the name of the school.

Barrett High school, Mrs. June Young—17 entries; Chestnut Hill High school, Miss Margaret Ingram—51 entries; East Stroudsburg Junior High school, Mrs. Ruth Thiesen—11 entries; Tobyhanna Township High school, Mrs. Grace Wildrick—30 entries; Polk Township High school, Mrs. Marian Meeker—22 entries; Poreomo Township High school, Mrs. Lenita Merritt—10 entries; Stroudsburg High school, Miss Mary Hall—43 entries; Coolbaugh Township High school, Miss Catherine Scanlon—23 entries.

Northampton county school is entered in the fashion show competition include the following: Bongor High school, Mrs. Margaret Stilla—53 entries; Pen Argyl High school, Mrs. Grace Samson—16 entries.

Twenty-three entries have been received from Greene-Dreher-Sterling school in Wayne county. Miss Florence Grimm is the homemaking teacher at that school.

Winners in the contest will be announced shortly after the fashion show.

Miss Emma Meltzer left on Thursday for Delaware Water Gap to spend several days with the John Chamberlain family.

Birthday celebrants this week are Mrs. Claude Kresge, Grace Gregory, Stanley Bonser and LeRoy Hawk.

Lenten services will be conducted March 12 in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Kresgeville at 7:45 p. m. by the Rev. James Laubach.

Due to the inclement weather the Women's Guild March meeting scheduled for Tuesday night in the parsonage was postponed.

$10,500 Property Assessed At $200; Owner Of $500 Tract Pays On $380

(This is the seventh in a series of articles based on actual real estate sales in boroughs and townships and the amounts at which these properties were assessed. Figures were taken from official county records.)

By Leonard Randolph

Buying a property in Stroud township proved to be a hazardous proposition for one man during May, 1951. This luckless landowner found himself stuck with a property assessment of 76 per cent of the market value of his property.

The 76 per cent assessment stood at the extreme of the percentage scale which ranged from a low of 2 per cent during the months from April through June.

In May a $500 tract of land was assessed at $380 or 76 per cent of its market value. This assessment set an all-time high for the year in Stroud township.

The three-month low was set with the sale of an undesignated number of lots on Grandview. Amount of sale was $10,500 with one house included in the sale price. The lots were assessed at $200. There was no assessment placed on the house.

A tract of land at Stokes Mill Manor was sold for $1500 during the month of June. The land had an assessed value of $50 or 4 per cent of its market value, according to official records.

Taking third prize in the low-assessment sweepstakes was a 22-acre tract of land with a 5 per cent assessed valuation. The sale price was $1,000; the assessed value was $50.

Two Stroud township properties were assessed at 8 per cent of their market value in April and June. The first of these, a $12,500 house and lot on Greene Terrace, was assessed at $1,050. The second, an $11,000 Arlington Heights home, was assessed at $850—slightly less than 8 per cent of the market value.

An $8,000 house and lot in Stroud township was assessed at exactly 10 per cent: a $1,000 purchase of lots was assessed at $100; land sold at $500 was assessed at $50; an $8,500 house near Ananionik was assessed at $850; a $10,500 land and house sale on Bridge St. was assessed at $1,050; a White Ave. house and lot sold for $3,000, was assessed at $300 and a package sale of two lots on Fifth St. for $1,000 was assessed at $100.

Similarly, a house on Stokes Mill road sold for $8,500 in May, 1951. It was assessed at $1,100 or 13 per cent of the true value.

One Stroudsburg RD lot which sold for $2,500 in May was assessed at $300—12 per cent of the market value; a $6,500 house near Stroudsburg was also assessed at 12 per cent—$750.

It is interesting to note that a unique form of "equalization" was achieved during this time period, at least in the amount of assessed value, if not in the per cent ratio to the selling price.

Five township properties were assessed at approximately $1,100 during the three-month period. These assessments were on real estate sales ranging from $4500 to $12,500. Percentage-wise the $1,100 ticket amounted to from 8 to 22 per cent of individual sale prices.

The remaining five Stroud township real estate transactions were assessed at 20 per cent or more of their market value.

In May a tract of land in the Pine Ridge section was sold for $500 with an assessed value of $100. A second tract of land in Stroud township sold for $3,000 and was assessed at $600. Both transactions carried assessments of 20 per cent of the market value.

Two 22 per cent assessments were set in April and June. Four acres of land which sold for $4500 in April were assessed at $1,000. A 516,000 farm in Cherry Valley was assessed at $3,500 in June. In each case the assessed value amounted to 22 per cent of the market price.

The final sale for which assessment figures are currently available was assessed at 24 per cent of the market value. This percentage was set on a $1,700 tract of land near Stroudsburg which was assessed at $400.

Treasury Position

Washington (AP) — Treasury position March 5: Net budget receipts $126,500,593.88, budget expenditures $184,305,042.67, cash balance $4,394,085,003.44, total debt $260,331,833,748.02, decrease under previous day $49,182,060.29.

Throughout the year Stroud township real estate sales reflected a pattern of inequality. The three months between April and June were no exception.

Sales for the three-month period amounted to $120,200. These sales were assessed at a total $14,580—12 per cent of the market value of all sales.

The inequality and unfairness of the assessment setup in Stroud township cannot be denied in the face of the evidence. In any system which assesses a $4,500 property at $1,000 and an $11,000 property at only $850 the degree of discrimination is too great to be ignored.

Monday: Stroud township — Part Three.
